GRAIN HARVEST UNDER WAY. As bright sun baked the Marion area countryside Wednesday, the 1958 grain harvest got under way. Jack Sims, who farms 450 acres near Meeker, checks the hopper of his self-propelled combine as his son, Larry, 20, gets a good start on a 30-acre barley field. Mr. Sims reported the crop a good one, with the yield approaching 45 bushels an acre. Grain looks better this year than in some time. The wheat harvest is expected to begin next week.

Castro Orders Hostages Freed

Release of All Americans, Canadians Starts in Cuba

Rebels Turn Loose Five of 50 Kidnaped

Broadcast Says Chief Knew Nothing About Series of Abductions

GUANTANAMO, Cuba (AP)—A broadcast from the mountain headquarters of rebel leader Fidel Castro has ordered the release of all Americans and Canadians held by rebels in the mountain jungles near here. Five of the 50 kidnaped by bands under Castro's brother Raul were released last night.

The broadcast said Castro knew nothing about the kidnaping of 47 Americans and 3 Canadians, "due to difficulties in communications." It said Castro had ordered Raul to release the men. Raul commands rebels in the northern section of rebellious Oriente Province.

Monitored in Puerto Rico

The broadcast, monitored in Puerto Rico, said:

"We know they (the captives) actually were not taken as hostages but only as observers so they could see how (President Fulgencio) Batista's forces kill Cuban civilians, using arms furnished by the United States."

A speedy return of more kidnaped North Americans was expected here after U.S. Consul Park Wollum came out of the hills with five captives in a U.S. Navy helicopter yesterday. Wollum returned with five of the 12 engineers seized by the rebels at the Moa Mining Co. in Northeastern Cuba last Thursday.

Darkness Halts Flights

Darkness halted the flights, but the helicopter was readied to resume operations today.

In all, the rebels kidnaped 46 Americans and 3 Canadians and spirited them into the mountains of Oriente from which Castro has carried on his guerrilla campaign. Among those seized were 29 American sailors and Marines from the Guantanamo base.

Wollam and Vice Consul Henry Wiecha were sent over the weekend to make contact with the rebels. Wiecha remained in the hills to continue negotiations.

Wollam indicated those still held would be freed soon. He said he had seen a number of the men, including some servicemen, scattered in various small rebel camps. "they are all fine and in good health, he said.

Promises To Stop Seizures

Edward Cannon, 53, of Cornwall, Ont., said he was present at the conference with Raul Castro and the rebel leader—brother of Fidel — promised to stop kidnaping foreigners.

Others in the Moa group released were Henry Salmonson, 46, Portland, Ore.; Anthony Chamberlain, Coral Gables, Fla.; Howard A. Roache, Watertown, N.Y., and William Koster, 63, Akron, Ohio.

They looked weary after five days in captivity. Some were unshaven and most wore dirt-stained clothes. But they praised their captors, and Chamberlain said a rebel doctor treated him for his chronic headaches.

"We were treated fine all the time and made a lot of friends," said Salmonson.

Flash Floods Hit Towns in Iowa; 13 Die

13 Others Are Missing After Torrential Rain Over Two-State Area

By The Associated Press

At least 13 persons were killed and six others are missing in southwestern Iowa after torrential rains caused flash floods Wednesday afternoon and night.

Several homes and business establishments were washed away in the Audubon County area. Hardest hit sections were the towns of Audubon, Exira and Hamlin, all in the valley of the flooded Nishnabotna River.

Yesterday's heavy rainbelt struck hardest on northern Illinois and parts of Iowa. Rainfall in the drenched areas ranged from six to more than 13 inches in southwestern and west central Iowa.

More than 4½ inches of rain doused Sycamore, Ill., in an hour as general rains struck northern Illinois.

Several funnels and tornadic winds were reported in the extreme western section of the rain belt. Stormy weather was reported near North Platte, Neb. Two small tornadoes and heavy rain struck the Billings, Mont., area. Several persons suffered minor injuries by falling tree limbs and flying debris.

The shower belt extended eastward into New England but rain-

Rain Possible on Holiday

Fireworks Display To Climax Fourth

The Marion Fourth of July Celebration Committee has worked out a program which it thinks should please just about everyone who comes out to Lincoln Park Friday—if it doesn't rain.

But the weatherman, an ally for the last few days, became something of a turncoat today and issued a forecast that calls for possible showers Friday.

WARY OF A repeat performance of last year's fireworks display which sputtered out in the midst of a storm, committee members say they'll postpone the colorful evening show until Saturday night even if it threatens to rain tomorrow.

This is the program the committee has lined up for Friday and despite a fund shortage this year it's designed to provide a full afternoon and evening of entertainment for young and old alike.

The celebration is scheduled to get under way at noon with a community picnic. The first contests start at 1:30 p.m.

Two 15-foot greased poles will pose a challenge to youngsters interested in retrieving a $5 bill which will be secured to the top of each. Pole climbing will be a continuous event, lasting until the fireworks begin at 9.

No one was successful in climbing the poles last year, but committee members said the $5 prize will be renewed in the event anyone reaches the top this year.

SACK RACES will be held from 1:30 to 2:30. A three-legged race starts at 2:30 and a baseball-throwing contest will be held from 3:30 to 4:30. Age groups for each contest will be arranged at the park, according to James Bradshaw, vice president of the committee and general chairman of the Lincoln Park celebration.

Gerald Maynard, president of Marion Baseball for Boys, will be in charge of Little League baseball from 4:30 to 6:30.

From 6:30 to 8:30, watermelon-eating contests, apple dunking and a penny scramble will be offered for all age groups. Announcements and drawings for prizes are scheduled from 8:30 to 9.

All contests with the exception of the greased pole climb will be held at the baseball diamond.

—:—

IF THE PREDICTED showers fail to materialize, the opening shot of the committee's $1,650 fireworks display will be touched off promptly at 9, Mr. Bradshaw said.

Members of the celebration committee in addition to Mr. Bradshaw and Mr. Maynard are:

George Drumm, president; Mrs.

O'Neill Okays Billboard Ban

Special Session Acts Signed by Governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill today signed into law special session acts to ban billboards and appropriate extra poor relief money.

The six-million-dollar appropriation to continue state matching of county poor relief expenditures is effective immediately.

The new law banning billboards on new interstate highways becomes effective in 90 days. The ban applies for 660 feet beside the thoroughfares.

Signing of the bill after combing it for "sleepers," the governor said: "It is not as strong as I recommended; it is stronger than the federal act or other state laws with which I am familiar."

Signing of the two measures completed action on all laws passed by the special session of the Legislature last week. Other bills were signed earlier.

Cabinet Resigns

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Outgoing Premier O. K. Yui's cabinet resigned today to pave the way for a new government headed by President Chiang Kai-shek's political heir apparent.

Chen Cheng, long a close associate of the Chinese Nationalist leader will continue as vice president and deputy leader for the ruling Kuomintang party after he takes over as premier.

Goldfine Declines To Supply Probers With Records on $750,000 in Checks

Trial Begins In Japan for U.S. Grid Star

Crowley Is Accused Of Manslaughter in T. A. D. Jones' Death

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese prosecutor charged today that former Yale football star Joseph P. Crowley inflicted such a severe, fatal beating upon Connecticut businessman T. A. D. Jones Jr. that blood was splattered six feet up the walls of their hotel suite.

Prosecutor Kenjiro Furukawa made the accusations as three black-robed Japanese judges began the trial of Crowley, 48, on manslaughter charges.

Jones, 45, was Crowley's brother-in-law and son of the late Yale football great T. A. D. Jones who came from Middletown, Ohio. The victim was found dead May 8 following a night-long drinking spree with Crowley.

The two men, who were business associates in New Haven, Conn., had come to Japan to buy an oil tanker. Frederick M. Kissinger of Brandywine, Md., who accompanied them, was cleared of suspicion and returned to the United States.

Crowley, bespectacled and outwardly calm, listened intently as the indictment was read. Then in a firm, loud voice he entered a plea of innocent, saying, "I deny I had anything to do with it."

Acknowledges Christmas Gifts Sent to Federal Employes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard Goldfine acknowledged today making what he called Christmas present payments to numerous White House and congressional employes. But he denied a suggestion that may explain the mysterious disposition of three-quarters of a million dollars.

He refused to give House investigators his records on the $750,000 of checks drawn on funds of his enterprises but never cashed.

House investigators had reported "incontrovertible proof" that Goldfine made payments to White House and congressional employes in both the present and past administrations.

Goldfine said they were for Christmas gifts to "poor workers" in the government offices, "and if that's bad I'd like to be told about it."

Goldfine, Boston industrialist and friend of presidential aide Sherman Adams, was handed a list of 37 names as a second day of hearings under oath got under way.

Hands List to Goldfine

Goldfine said the gifts ran around $25 and the largest one went to Eugene P. Kinnaly, administrative assistant to Rep. John W. McCormack (Mass), House Democratic leader.

Goldfine said he had known Kinnaly for many years.

Robert W. Lishman, counsel for the House subcommittee investigating Goldfine's relations with Adams and with other officials and federal agencies, handed the list of 37 names to Goldfine. Lishman asked him to identify the persons.

Lishman said he was trying to find out what happened to three-quarters of a million dollars worth of Goldfine company checks that remain outstanding and still uncashed over a long period of time.

Records Subpoenaed

"We have records subpoenaed from the Pilgrim Trust Co. (of Boston)," Lishman said, "incontrovertible proof that Mr. Goldfine made it apparently a practice to have treasurers' checks purchased which he used for payments to various employes both past and present in the White House and on the Hill."

"The Hill" was a reference to Congress, coming from Capitol Hill.

Lishman then handed the list of 37 names to Goldfine, saying the checks may have gone to federal employes "who may have been too bashful to get them cashed."

Goldfine did not immediately identify any one on the list publicly except Kinnaly.

But he protested that only a small portion of the checks represented payments to federal officials. He declined to produce records on the full amount as Lishman sought.

Goldfine contended that the checks were not relevant to the stated aim of the subcommittee's inquiry—to check on how federal regulatory agencies are following the law.

Goldfine said the checks that did represent payments to White House and congressional employes were of the $25 variety.

"At Christmas time these are all checks that we send to some poor workers" who toil in government offices, he testified.

"There isn't one check there that hasn't been given as far as Christmas is concerned, and if that's bad I'd like to be told about it," Goldfine said indignantly.

Lishman questioned Goldfine on his understanding of the difference between a treasurer's check,

Jury Convicts Pair in Indiana Road Scandals

Ex-Gov. Craig Aides Accused of Bribery; Face Up to 14 Years

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Elmer W. (Doc) Sherwood and William E. Sayer, once top advisers in the state administration, were convicted early today of conspiring to bribe and bribing state officials in the Indiana highway scandals.

The jury in Marion County Criminal Court recommended maximum sentences of 2 to 14 years in prison and maximum fines of $15,000 — $10,000 for bribery and $5,000 for conspiracy.

Special Judge Thomas E. Garvin set sentencing for July 14 for Sherwood, Sayer and Arthur J. Mogilner, Indianapolis salesman. Mogilner was indicted with Sherwood and Sayer but pleaded guilty early in the trial and testified for the state.

Their attorneys said both will appeal.

Prosecutor John G. Tinder said he made no deals with Mogilner but probably will ask the court to be lenient with him.

Sayer served as administrative assistant to former Gov. George

Now Goes to County

Service Director Signs Sewer District Contract

A contract between the city and Marion County Sewer District 1 was signed Wednesday afternoon by Safety-Service Director Howard W. Travis.

The contract sets the conditions under which suburban sanitary sewers in District 1 may connect to city sewers and is necessary before private developers may construct trunk sewers to serve a large area southeast of the city including two housing developments, the new shopping center and the County Home.

County Commissioner Howard McCurdy reported this morning that the contract still has not been submitted to the commissioners for their signature. But he said when it is received the commissioners plan to sign it.

Mayor Wendell L. Strong reported today that the plans and specifications for the Forest Lawn Dr. sanitary trunk sewer extension were delivered to the state health department in Columbus Wednesday for approval.

Bids for the construction of the extension will be opened in the safety-service director's office at noon on July 18. Estimated cost of the extension is some $36,000.

The extension will provide a connecting point to city sewers for a sanitary sewer system to be built in District 1 by the developers of the Zachman-Vernon Acres,

Calls for Parley

Soviet Premier Seeking Talks To Prevent Attack

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev called today for an East-West conference of military and civilian experts to work out an agreement to prevent surprise attacks by one nation upon another.

Khrushchev made his proposal in a letter to President Eisenhower delivered in Washington Wednesday and released at a foreign ministry news conference in Moscow this afternoon.

He suggested the United States and the Soviet Union take the initiative in calling the conference, that the conference be held in the near future and that the participants include the United States, the Soviet Union "and possibly representatives of some other government."

In Washington, Secretary of State Dulles said today that new Soviet proposals on the problem of preventing surprise attack might lead to technical military talks between the Soviets and the Western powers.

Dulles talked with newsmen after a conference with President Eisenhower.

He compared possible military talks with the Soviet to the East-West scientific conference just stiio at Geneva on problems involved in policing any future agreement to suspend nuclear tests.

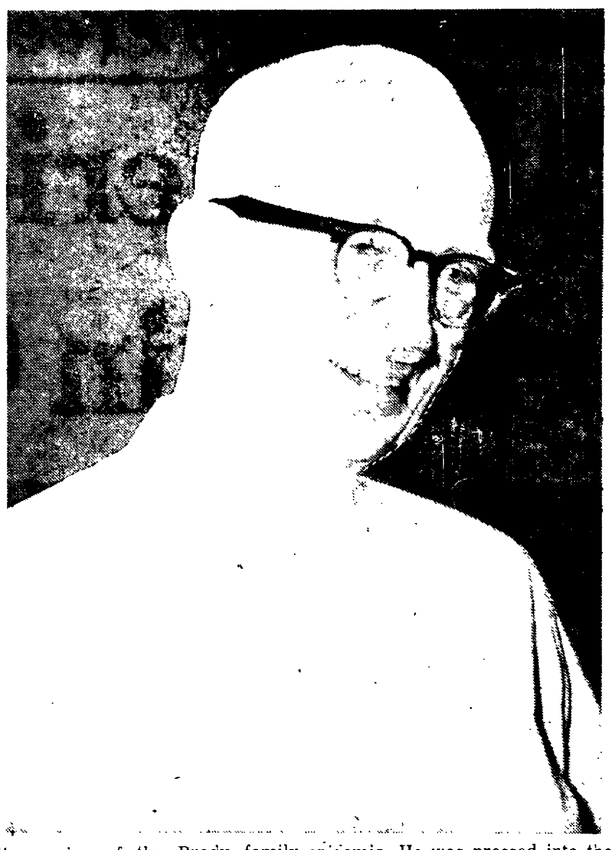
People We're Proud To Know

Dr. E. L. Brady



By CHARLES L. MARTIN

"Retire? No sir, I've never given it a thought."

Those are the words of one of Marion's senior citizens who for more than half a century has been providing medical and civic service to the community.

He is Dr. Eben L. Brady, now in his 56th year of practicing medicine in Marion, 19 years of it in general medicine and the rest in his specialty of treating eye, ear, nose and throat disorders.

Possibly one reason Dr. Brady has not thought of retiring is that he is too busy. Another may be that he is in better health than many men who are years his junior.

NOW 78, Dr. Brady shows no signs of any infirmities and plans to keep right on with his practice as long as he is able.

Apparently his ability along this line will continue indefinitely. He has regular daily office hours and so far this year has performed some 100 tonsillectomies at the rate of three or more a day, most of them in the operating rooms at Marion General Hospital.

Over the years he has operated on some 6,500 persons for various disorders of the eye, ear, nose and throat with the majority being the removal of tonsils or adenoids or both. He also has performed refractory operations and operations for treatment of mastoid.

But ministering to the medical needs of the community is not the only way in which Dr. Brady has served Marion. He also has served on numerous civic committees and is a member of various clubs and organizations.

Just this week he was awarded a 23-year perfect attendance pin by the Marion Rotary Club and also was given a diamond-studded past president's pin.

Born on April 9, 1880, Dr. Brady was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert James Brady, who at that time resided in Big Island Township.

His father was a public works contractor and moved about from job to job and Eben started his education at a former city school on N. State St., later attended school in the old Central School, then attended schools in what was then Agosta.

He next worked with his father on street and ditch digging projects until 1897 when he took and passed a county school board examination for a teacher's certificate. Dr. Brady recalls that in those days one of the prerequisites to college entrance was either a high school diploma or a teacher's certificate.

At first, he studied pharmacy at the Northern Indiana Normal School for one year and then, on the urging of the Brady family doctor, switched over to premedicine at a school in Lebanon, O.

AFTER TWO YEARS in premedicine he entered the Ohio Medical College (now the College of Medicine at Ohio State University) and received his M.D. degree in April 1903.

He immediately opened an office on E. Church St. just west of S. State St. and remained there for 25 years until he moved into his present offices in what is now the Elite Apartments buliding on S. Main St. 30 years ago.

His present suite of offices consists of 17 rooms, three of which contain beds for the overnight care of patients. He also has a completely-equipped operating room where he performs some 40 per cent of all his tonsillectomies.

In his long and distinguished career, Dr. Brady has earned the respect and high regard of all his many professional and social friends and associates.

In 1907, Dr. Brady became the first Republican ever to be elected to the post of Marion County coroner after he conducted a campaign by driving a buggy to every "corner of the county." He served as coroner through 1909.

After his term as coroner he returned to private practice until 1915 when he was asked to serve as a "smallpox" doctor during an epidemic. He was pressed into the same service again in another epidemic in 1919.

In 1920 he decided to specialize in ear, eye, nose and throat, and attended post-graduate courses at both the Chicago E.E. N.T. College and Hospital and the Wills Eye Hospital in Philadelphia.

In 1923 he was appointed the ear, eye, nose and throat physician for the Marion County Children's Home and served in this capacity until 1951 during which time he operated on 223 children.

Another of his services to the community came in 1927 when he helped to organize a free clinic in the basement of the old city hospital. He treated cases in the clinic every Wednesday for the next 15 years, all without remuneration.

—:—

IN 1930 HE was elected president of the Marion County Tuberculosis and Health Association, a post he held until 1953. In 1933 he was elected president of the Marion Academy of Medicine and served in this post through 1934. Also in 1933, he was elected a member of the YMCA board and continued to serve in that capacity until September, 1955.

He also was president of the Marion Rotary Club in 1933.

In 1937, Dr. Brady was elected to a two-year-term as president of the Ohio Public Health Association and in 1947 was named president of the oldest medical organization in Ohio, the Northwestern Ohio Medical Association. He served as treasurer of this organization for several years.

Currently Dr. Brady is an active member of the Aero Medical Association, the Marion Matinee Club, the Chamber of Commerce, the Knights of Columbus, the Marion Country Club, the Marion Rotary Club, the county, state and national medical associations, the staff of Marion General Hospital and the Pan-American Association of Ophthalmology.

He also is a non-resident member of the Columbus E.E.N.T. Society and is a life member of the Chicago E.E.N.T. College and Hospital staff.

Dr. Brady also served on the Salvation Army board here for many years and annually worked on the many fund-raising drives for various community projects. He also served on a committee that planned Boy Scout Camp Owens.

A member of St. Mary Catholic Church, Dr. Brady also is a member of the Knights of Pythias and the Moose, Eagles and Elks lodges.

During World War I, he served on the local selective service board.

An avid sports fan, Dr. Brady was an under par golfer in the community in his younger years. In 1924, he captured the National Greens match play handicap open tournament trophy at the Marion Country Club and in 1926 he won the "President's Cup." Still a golf enthusiast, he asserts that his clubs are ready and waiting in a corner of his office, "if I could only find time to use them." He recalls that he had to give up golf during World War II when he was the only E.E.N.T. specialist in Marion and had no time for anything but his patients.

He also played on a local softball team at one time and was a member of a top-notch volley ball team at the YMCA, another member of which was John Clark, a local attorney, who also is still active in his profession.

Dr. Brady has two children, a son, James E. of Galveston, Tex., who is an optician, and a daughter, Mrs. Francis Hurst of 329 Franklin St. He also has two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The late Mrs. Brady, who died in 1940, was the former Marie M. Rice, a native of Columbus. Dr. Brady also had one brother, L. D. Brady, who was a pharmacist at Henney and Cooper drug store for many years until his death in 1952, and a sister, Mrs. Irene Roberts, who died in 1946 at her home three miles west of Marion.

Mount Gilead Okays Rubbish Collection Pact

Contract Let to Ghent For Maintenance of Dump, Hauling Work

MOUNT GILEAD—Members of the Mount Gilead Village Council opened bids at a special meeting this week for the hiring of a person to take care of the Mount Gilead village dump and the collection of garbage and trash. A total of five bids was received.

At a special meeting Monday night an emergency was declared and an ordinance setting up the necessary regulations for the running of the dump and for the collection of garbage was passed.

Ghent Given Contract

Contract was let to Louis W. Ghent of near Mount Gilead on his agreed low colletion rate for the running of the dump and collection of garbage at the Monday night meeting.

New collection rates are: For trash or refuse other than garbage per householder per month 50 cents, for refuse and garbage per householder per month 90 cents. The rate is lower than what many householders now pay.

The new contract is expected to be in effect within a short period of time. The dump site is located southwest of the new village sewage treatment plant and replaces one on W. High St. The former site has been sold to the Morrow County Farm Bureau for the location of a new grain elevatorf and store.

The ordinance provides that garbage and refuse must be kept in approved, rust resistant and water tight containers of not less than five gallons nor more than 20 gallons capacity and that the weight shall not exceed 75 pounds. It states that insofar as practicable all boxes, papers, tree cuttings and similar bulky articles shall be crushed and tied in bundles not exceeding three feet in length and 18 inches in diameter, or 75 pounds in weight.

It also provides that collections of garbage will be made weekly and collections of refuse be made bi-weekly in conformance with schedules to be established and published.

Collection of garbage and refuse from commercial operators will be made in accordance with a schedule to be established by council and shall provide a minimum of one collection a week and as many additional collections as circumstances dictate.

Joint use of a garbage or refuse container is prohibited.

Must Use Approved Vehicle

The ordinance also provides that the hauler must transport refuse or garbage in an approved vehicle, leakproof, easily cleanable and covered.

Rates are based on a maximum of 20 gallons or 75 pounds of refuse a week. Rates for persons accumulating garbage or refuse in excess of this amount will be established by negotiation between the individual and the contractor.

The ordinance provides for the sanitary disposing of the garbage collection from Mount Gilead in such a manner as not to cause a public heath menace, constitute a nuisance, attract rodents or insects.

Collection is not required by the contractor from any person who is delinquent in the payment of his fees for a period of a month.

The ordinance provides that each householder or commercial operator shall cause his garbage to be removed for disposal at least once a week or as frequently as may prove necessary.

Must Clean Up Material

Garbage must be outside and easily accessable. The contractor is responsible for cleaning waste materials lost or spilled during collection.

The village dump may be used as a private dump site by individuals or corporations during an eight hour period on Saturday of each week for refuse and burnables. No garbage may be hauled by individuals to the dump.

A maximum fine of $50 is provided for violation of any provisions of the ordinances. The ordinance provides that garbage must be wrapped.

The contractor must furnish a bond of $5,000 and the contract will be in effect for five years.

Galion Legion Band Growing More Popular at Each Concert

GALION — The "Spirit of '76" seems to extend past the Fourth of July into the remaining months of the year for Galion's American Legion band.

Now comprised of 36 members, including Director Don Funk and Drum Major Jack Williams this musical organization of the Scarbrough American Legion Post has been making more and more appearances and is fast becoming an institution here.

Rehearse Twice Weekly

With the band scheduled for its first state competition when it appears at the Ohio convention of the American Legion in Columbus July 20, rehearsals are now being held twice weekly. They will be held each Tuesday and Thursday night prior to the convention with regular rehearsals on Tuesday nights.

The band's membership includes some top musicians from surrounding towns as well as Galion, with a couple of music instructors thrown in. Members come from Perrysville, Mount Gilead, Mansfield, Lucas and Bucyrus. New uniforms will be worn at the state convention.

Much of the band's inspiration is due the director, Don Funk of Mansfield. Although the band has been in existence for more than 12 years, it was struggling along two years ago to keep an organization in effect. Since then membership has increased, and interest has mounted.

Mr. Funk studied music at Michigan State Normal in Ypsilanti, Mich., and completed his education at Michigan State University at East Lansing. He worked for the I.B.M. Corp. and in Galion at the Power Equipment Co. and is now an agent for the Western and Southern Life Insurance Co. in Mansfield.

The band's activity will be centered Friday at Heise Park where it will participate in the celebration being sponsored by the Galion Lion's Club. Plans are to have a German band, comprised of several of the band members, play throughout the day, with a concert by the full band about 3:30 p.m. The band also is having a concession stand at the park during the day.

Appeared Frequently

This spring the band presented a concert March 23, for the benefot of the Galion High School Stadium fund. In the last two years, it has participated in festivities at the Chillicothe Veterans' Hospital when "Hospital Day" was observed. Other appearances were on Memorial Day, at the Fifth District Spring conference of the American Legion at Lodi, in the June 8 parade at Ashland for the Little Convention of the district and at county fairs and Halloween Mardi Gras events.

Officers of the band are president, James Yunker; vice president, Earl Sloan; secretary, Robert Moore; treasurer, James Smith; executive board, Richard Reid, Robert Snyder and William Bradfield.

Two Alarms Sounded

GALION—Two calls to the Galion Fire department in 30 minutes, the first at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, took the fighters to burning rubbish on Richardson St. and to a grass fire on Laughbaum Dr. No serious damage resulted at either place.

Lake Ports Expand Facilities for Seaway Trade

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—In varying degrees, American ports on the Great Lakes are planning to beef up their facilities in anticipation of the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway and increased trade with foreign nations.

Basically, the task of the Americans is preparing for the bigger ocean vessels which the seaway will bring and generating enough cargo to keep them coming.

Last of a Series

In a 3-week tour of European ports, Toledo Blade writer Alan F. Schoedel learned that our neighbors across the sea also are building for increased business. In addition, the European ports have some special problems of their own.

Take Amsterdam, The Netherlands.

THIS PORT on the Zuyder Zee, connected to the North Sea by an 11-mile canal, is doing an extensive remodeling job and chipping away at some old shipping patterns which it considers detrimental.

The remodeling includes widening of the North Sea entrance to the canal and enlarging the port by adding six square miles of harbor area to the present three square miles.

As for the shipping patterns, what once was a boon is now a headache.

Frans Adriaanse, economist for Amsterdam's port authority, explained that for decades the general practice of Dutch shipping lines has been to use Amsterdam as their port for cargo from Indonesia, Africa, the Dutch West Indies and South and Central America.

—:—

ROTTERDAM, 50 miles away and facing the North Sea, became established as the port for Dutch lines serving North America.

This was all right with Amsterdam while the rich Dutch colonial trade was flourishing.

But with Indonesia no longer under Dutch control, with the Indonesian government making deliberate efforts to steer trade away from The Netherlands and with trade to North America expanding, Amsterdam is hurting.

Last year, Amsterdam handled 11,113,000 tons of seagoing cargo while Rotterdam handled six times that much.

"I think," said economist Adriaanse, "that day after day it's becoming more important to get more shipping lines moving between Amsterdam and North America."

"For example," he continued, "grain imports have shifted almost completely from South America in the 1930s to North America."

A large quantity of those grain imports now go through Rotterdam, while Amsterdam's grain handling facilities are operating far below capacity.

Rotterdam, shattered in World War II, has done a tremendous rebuilding job in the years since and now claims to rank second only to New York in shipping. In pre-war years, its tonnage was 31.5 million tons a year. In 1952 the tonnage was 39.8 million tons and now it's almost twice that.

Another war - hammered port, Hamburg, West Germany, has spent 115 million dollars of a 145 million dollar program to restore and improve its facilities.

A sprawling, industrial city, Hamburg is the last port of call in the free world for ships sailing between the lakes and northern Europe.

Hamburg's difficulty is that it has lost the vast eastern portion of its hinterland through the Communist occupation of East Germany.

THE CITY IS on the Elbe River, 65 miles from the North Sea. Moving upstream from Hamburg, the Elbe swings southeast and back of the iron curtain.

It is in that territory that Hamburg once had its link with the Middle Land Canal, an east-west waterway crossing Germany from the industrial Ruhr. Hamburg now is cut off at the spot where it once received large amounts of cargo from the Ruhr.

The city is trying to break the stranglehold by urging construction of an 180-mile canal, extending south through free German territory to tie in with the Middle Land Canal.

But the West German government opposes the plan because it would seem to suggest that East Germany will always remain split off.

Antwerp, Belgium, is an encouraging sight for advocates of seaway trade. With national help, Antwerp is beginning a 10-year, 114 million dollar project of expanding its man-made harbor, cut out of solid land.

ALREADY, vessels in the Great Lakes trade are becoming increasingly familiar in the 13,000-acre maze of docks canals and industry which make up the port. Before the war, only one or two ships a month went from Antwerp to the lakes. Last year there were 144.

Lest pleasure be forgotten in connection with the seaway, activity in a shipyard near Rotterdam should be mentioned.

There, crews are working on the first of two 100-passenger ships the Dutch-Norwegian Fjell-Oranj Lines are building especially for seaway use.

The vessel will be 460 feet long with a 62-foot beam and will be named for the 18-year-old second daughter of Queen Juliana.

Scheduled for completion next March, it may be the first major passenger ship through the seaway in 1959.

HELD IN SHIP THEFT. Emanuel Bredel, 39, (left) chats with Federal Marshal Thomas Lumney after their arrival in New York aboard the liner Independence. Bredel, a former sea captain, allegedly stole the 50-foot, two-masted auxiliary schooner "Serene" from Clayton Jager of New York to sail to South Africa to make his fortune in the diamond fields. He was arrested in the Canary Islands last November. Marshal Lumney and another official were sent to the islands to bring him back. (UPI Telephoto)

Clevelander Draws Fire

School Board Member Rapped for Comments

CLEVELAND (AP)—Comments by a Cleveland Board of Education member that southern and Puerto Rican youngsters were corroding Cleveland education standards has drawn sharp opposition.

Robert H. Jamison, speaking from the floor in a question-answer session at the National Education Assn. (NEA) meeting here, said Tuesday that migrant childrens education was substandard where they came from, and that they thus were placing an extra burden on Cleveland schools. He specifically cited the influx of children from the South — both white and Negro—and from Puerto Rico.

Another board member, Alfred Benesch, said Wednesday night the remarks "do not represent the opinion of the rest of the board, adding that "we have no second-class citizens here.

The Puerto Rican delegation to the NEA convention also voiced opposition to Jamisons contention. Francisco Collazo, an NEA state director from Puerto Rico, said in a statement:

"The Puerto Rican delegation . . . feels it was unfortunate that member Robert H. Jamison attempted to partially place the blame for failure of the Cleveland Board of Education to properly handle its increasing population factors upon the Puerto Rican residents of this city . . . .

"The contributions of these United States citizens to the economy of Cleveland are well known and should inspire constructive action rather than destructive criticism.

Benesch said no other Board of Education member had expressed the views of Jamison either publicly or privately. He added he had spoken to board President Charles A. Mooney and two other board members and they agreed with his opposion to Jamison.

"Our public schools are committed to teach both the rich and the poor, both the bright and the dull, Benesch said. "All children must be given the opportunity to learn as much as their desire and their ability will permit.

"Slackness of modern American education was criticized by Max Lerner, noted writer and educator, in a speech at the NEAs general session.

"Education must be made a heroic encounter for teacher and student alike, said Lerner, professor of American civilization at Brandeis University and a columnist for the New York Post.

"We must search out dedicated talent and promise, he told the teachers.

Lerner urged that shaping of school curriculum be placed in the hands of "those who know about it—the educators themselves, rather than town or county officials."

Suspending or expelling troublemakers from school does not offer a sound solution to educational problems, speakers noted at an NEA sectional meeting on maladjusted children.

The mass suspension of 1,200 New York City pupils last February was sharply criticized. One critic was Dr. George Zuckerman, an assistant New York school superintendent. He said administrators were "trying to salvage what we can from the holocaust of a Board of Education resolution forced by public pressure.

PTA Head Defends System

Education in U.S. Needs No Apology, NEA Told

CLEVELAND (AP)—There is no reason to apologize for American education despite charges that public schools are too soft for today's hard world.

Mrs. James E. Parker, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, expressed that view today and added, "All the evidence indicates that our school system is as good as it was in the past, if not better. Moreover, it is a system that fits our free way of life and values we cherish."

In an address prepared for delivery to the annual convention of the National Education Assn., Mrs. Parker said the national PTA is strongly opposed to those who demand that driver education, physical education, home economics and family living courses be dropped from the public school curriculum.

"Even our academically superior and gifted students have bodies to be kept whole and healthy," she said. "They, too, live in families and will have responsibilities for rearing children useful to themselves and to society . . . .

"No one is asking the schools to substitute driver education for mathematics, physical education for science, or home economics for english. We can teach both the so-called solid subjects and these other courses without compromising educational goals or lowering academic standards.

"All we need is to give education the priority it deserves in the financial and talent ledgers of the community, the state and the nation."

She said, however, that any trend toward shifting parental responsibilities to the schools must be halted.

"The home has vastly more important functions than to serve as a school's dormitory and boarding table. To raise standards of home life, to strengthen parents' confidence in their ability to rear children intelligently, and to add new dimensions of understanding to the experience of being a parent—these have been, and will continue to be, primary objectives of the PTA."

Jet Noise Drowns Out Pastor, Church Near Air Base Moves

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—A minister and those who use the heavens reached an agreement. The U.S. Air Force gave the Rev. Bob Jackson — under certain circumstances — the right to tell it when its planes could fly and when they couldn't.

The little, rural Community Baptist Church didn't mind at first when Dyess Air Force Base aimed its runway at the small, long-established church building. After all, propellor-driven planes don't make too much noise.

Then came the jets. The base added more and more craft.

After a few Sundays of sitting there, more shaken by sound than sermon, the congregation's leaders told the air base authorities their woes.

The Air Force sent a couple of officers to listen to a sermon. They agreed it was a deafening experience.

The Air Force agreed to telephone the Rev. Mr. Jackson and ask permission for mass flights to take off except in emergencies.

One night the pastor received a call from a major in charge of a flight of 15 planes from another base.

"Say," the major shouted, "the tower tells me I've got to clear with you before I can take off."

The Rev. Mr. Jackson patiently explained the agreement.

"Well," said the major, haltingly, "is it all right if we leave" He got permission.

But the agreement didn't pan out. During a recent revival 27 jets were forced to take off in a 30-minute period in the middle of services, The pastor described the visiting evangelist as a nervous wreck.

When the first huge KC135 jet tanker came over, the deacons ran up a white flag and broke ground for a new church three miles from the runway.

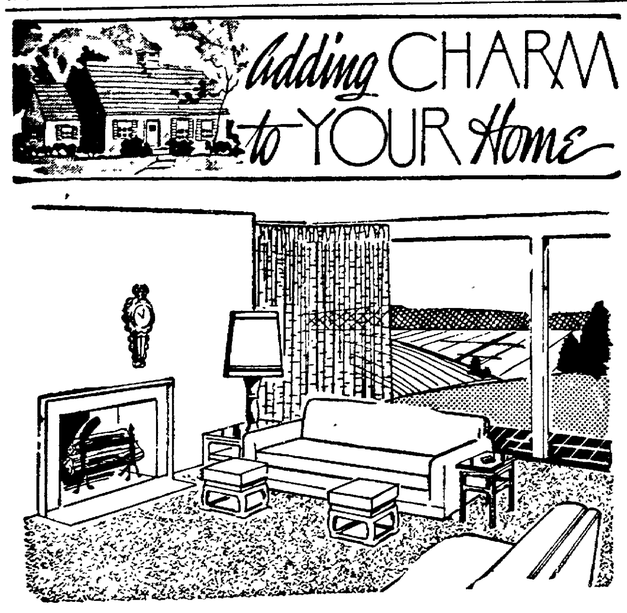
He has been assigned to Abyess Air Force Base at Abilene, Tex. The master sergeant is making a career of the service.



Adding CHARM to YOUR Home

LET FURNITURE STAND ALONE

The idea has long been generally accepted that a good furniture grouping requires a lot of unbroken wall space. But this is not necessarily true — particularly since we are gradually getting away from the more conventional room arrangements. Today, rooms with large and/or numerous windows, badly placed doors and unexpected built-in features offer great decorative challenges, and present opportunities for distinctive, unusual and original furniture arrangements.

The things to be considered when planning the furniture arrangement for any room are: first, the activities that are to be carried on in the room, and next, the architectural features of the room. Then plan your groupings around these activities, and to bring out the room's best features.

The fireplace and the huge picture window were carefully considered when planning the furniture arrangement in the Contemporary living room sketched above. Walls and wall-to-wall nylon carpeting are a rich tawny beige. Note how the white sofas stand alone — away from the walls and window — and show up importantly against the beige background. Semi-transparent casement cloth draperies (beige) have gold threadings which contribute to the overall effect of elegance.

We've tried to anticipate your individual furniture requirements, and we've chosen every piece we offer you with painstaking care. You'll find distinctive, well-designed furniture for every room in your home in our nice assortments. See us today!

Dulles To Ask De Gaulle Support in Nuclear Test Ban Effort

France May Disagree on Joint Parley

Restrictions Would Hurt Bid To Become Fourth Atom Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles conferred with President Eisenhower today before taking off for a meeting with Gen. Charles de Gaulle which could bring a showdown on the issue of U.S.-French cooperation in nuclear weapons production.

Dulles is expected to urge the French premier to cooperate with Britain and the United States in negotiations with the Soviet Union looking toward a possible ban on nuclear weapons testing.

Nuclear Progress Issue

De Gaulle is expected on his part to raise the issue of U.S. help in making France a nuclear power if France should forego its own prospective program of nuclear experiments.

The situation is complicated because Congress has just approved American sharing of nuclear weapons secrets with Britain. But provisions of the law governing secret-sharing are much tougher as they apply to France.

Dulles is due to leave for France at 7 p.m.

The United States itself has not decided firmly whether to seek a test suspension agreement, but preliminary technical talks on the possibility are under way at Geneva.

The problem of what to do about a test suspension is likely to be the most difficult to the wide ranging issues which Dulles will discuss on a flying trip to the French capital beginning tonight.

Scope of Talks

Officials said that the Dulles-De Gaulle talks will cover France's persistent economic plight marked by a shortage of foreign exchange, the Middle East Crisis with emphasis on Lebanon, the North African troubles centering around Algeria, relations with Russia particularly as they involve prospects for a summit conference, and the problem of cooperation in the field of atomic energy uses.

It is on the nuclear issue and specifically the question of suspending tests that the most serious differences could arise. France has been reported at the threshold of developing its own nuclear weapons and becoming the worlds fourth atomic power—along with the United States, Britain and Russia.

Tests Required

Atomic weapons, however, cannot be developed without test explosions such as the Big Three in this field have already carried out. The Eisenhower administration undertook to meet this problem by proposing to share U. S. nuclear weapons secrets with its allies.

Congress passed — and Eisenhower signed Wednesday— a bill giving the administration much of the authority it asked. But Congress wrote into the bill restrictions which effectively restricted the results of weapons tests and other such highly secret information to Great Britain.

One of Dulles handicaps in dealing with De Gaulle on this issue, therefore, is that the United States is in a position of favoring Britain above the other allies.

Probers Hear Aide to Adams Received Gift

WASHINGTON (AP)—A secretary to Sherman Adams and an aide to Rep. McCormack (D-Mass) were named in House hearings today as having received Christmas checks from Bernard Goldfine.

Eugene Kinnaly, administrative assistant to McCormack, denied to newsmen that he had received a check. He said he had received food and fruit as a Christmas gift. McCormack is the House Democratic leader.

Goldfine, in the witness chair of a House investigating committee, was given a list of 37 names which committee counsel said came from incontrovertible proof that Goldfine had made payments to federal employes in both the present and past administrations.

Goldfine pictured these as $25 to $50 Christmas gifts to some of the "poor workers" in the White House and at the Capitol.

Then the Boston industrialist and friend of Adams, No. 1 aide to President Eisenhower, identified one of the 37 as Kinnaly. Goldfine said that was the first name on the list.

Rep. Peter F. Mack (D-Ill) said another name on the list was a secretary to Adams named Laura G. Sherman.

drawn against a bank, and an ordinary personal check.

"Is it not a fact," Lishman asked, "that a treasurer's check is purchased in the name of the person that is to receive it and masks the identity of the person who gives the check?"

Goldfine disagreed, saying that "a letter always goes along with these checks explaining who they are from."

"Yes, but your name never appears on the check," Lishman insisted.

"Here, I'll hand you a photostatic copy of one," Lishman said.

"All right," Goldfine said testily. "Hand me one."

Goldfine said his signature did not appear on it.

Lishman asked Goldfine if he understood that a treasurer's check was good indefinitely or until the issuing bank went bankrupt, whereas a personal check expired by law unless cashed within a year of issuance.

'Never Knew It'

"I only learned that today," Goldfine replied. "I never knew that until today."

Rep. Charles Wolverton (R-NJ) objected that the committee members were being "held in darkness as to what the counsel has in mind."

"I think it would be appropriate," Wolverton said, "for the committee to hold an executive session so that the committee can have the information that Mr. Lishman has.

"I don't believe it is the intent of this committee to withhold publicity about those in this or other administrations who may have received gifts from this witness."

Lishman said the members of the committee had the list in question, but Wolverton insisted that he had not been supplied a copy.

"It is available to all members who desire to have it," chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark), said. "You may have a copy."

Amounts to 'Tax Evasion'

Before today's hearing, Rep. Peter F. Mack (D-Ill) said Goldfine's treatments of his favors to Sherman Adams, No. 1 White House aide, amounts to "income tax evasion by falsely listing gifts as business expenses."

But Goldfine said the bills got routine handling by his accountants and if the Internal Revenue Service "feels we made a mistake . . . we will adjust our returns."

Goldfine, who gave his explanation in a statement Wednesday night, faces questioning about that and other matters under oath today before a House subcommittee checking charges that Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide, helped Goldfine get favored treatment from federal agencies.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) said questioning of Goldfine probably will continue into next week.

Both Adams and Goldfine have said they exchanged gifts — on a personal basis. Both have denied that Goldfine sought or received favored treatment from the government as a result.

Mack reported the subcommittee, of which he is a member, has evidence to back up most other charges it has heard against Goldfine — including a mystery witness who may attest that Goldfine once said he bought a Washington house for Adams.

That charge, which Goldfine and Adams both have denied, was one of a number made by John Fox, a onetime associate and now a business enemy of Goldfine.

Reads Lengthy Statement

Goldfine, a self-styled Russian-born poor boy who built a New England empire in textile mills and real estate, spent 2½ hours on the stand Wednesday reading 22 pages of a 25-page statement defending himself and his friend Adams.

In the statement he denied various charges, explained his troubles with federal agencies, and described Fox as a man who "has told many lies about Bernard Goldfine and will tell many more, I am sure."

Meeting Confused

Attorneys for Goldfine Guide Press Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rarely has this capital—where the spoken word is anything but rare—seen 306 words launched with so much fanfare.

The words were Bernard Goldfine's account Wednesday night of how some of his favors to presidential aide Sherman Adams came to be charged off as business expenses.

Goldfine, a Boston millionaire, said favors for Adams, including hotel bills, were deducted by his accountants as business expenses. He said he's willing to adjust his tax returns if the Internal Revenue Service feels he made a mistake.

Attorneys Enforce Silence

For a score of reporters, the launching — intended largely for newsreel cameras—was a frustrating experience. There also was some evidence it was frustrating for Goldfine, a ruddy and gregarious man. He seemed to want to talk to the reporters—but one of his lawyers wouldn't let him.

Presiding over the production was Tex McCrary, television personality and public relations man. McCrary told reporters neither the White House nor the Republican National Committee had brought him in to work with Goldfine. He said he was helping out an old friend, Roger Robb, one of Goldfine's lawyers, and was getting neither pay nor expenses.

Story Already Told

The newsmen were summoned to a hotel ballroom by word that Goldfine would distribute his statement at 8 p. m. and read it for the newsreels a half-hour later.

When they arrived at 8, they found the story already was in most of their offices, because it had been telephoned to the wire services an hour earlier, and Goldfine wasn't expected before 9 at the earliest.

Bottles and canapes were wheeled in and McCrary said the drinks were on Goldfine. He smiled bravely when somebody asked whether Goldfine was going to take the bar bill off his taxable income.

Nine o'clock came and went while the reporters read newspapers and interviewed McCrary.

Goldfine arrived at 9:30, accompanied by lawyer Samuel Sears.

McCrary called for quiet and announced a rehearsal. Goldfine read his statement with lights, but no cameras.

A reporter shouted a question about Goldfine and Adams.

Attorney Objects

Sears was on his feet in a flash. "Don't talk. No talking. Not a word," he advised his client.

The reporter persisted. "Don't press," advised McCrary, still hanging on to that smile.

The live reading followed, several times over. Reporters kept trying. Sears kept objecting.

Finally a desperate reporter asked, "Mr. Goldfine, to what do you attribute your rosy cheeks?"

"Walking," Goldfine replied happily.

The newsmen bored in. Did he walk as much as former President Harry Truman?

"I walk faster," Goldfine said.

Then the questioning got around to Adams again and Sears went back into action.

As Sears steered his client out of the room, Goldfine told the hovering reporters: "You are all fine gentlemen."

Las Vegas Fanfare Hits New High as Largest Hotel Opens

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The top investment in this land of cactus and crap tables—a seven-million-dollar tourist attraction called the Hotel Stardust — opened Wednesday night with a Hollywood and Parisian whoopla.

Searchlights and stars like Bob Hope, Ethel Merman, Marie McDonald and Polly Bergen hailed the opening of the strip's newest luxury hotel. It was once the dream of Tony Cornero Stralla, who operated gambling ships off the California coast in the 1930s until beached by the then Atty. Gen. Earl Warren.

Stralla died at a crap table here three years ago while trying for 10 the hard way. His mammoth development wasted until 2,900 investors were corraled to put up the finishing money. The hotel's 1,065 rooms far exceed the capacity of other hotels on the town's strip.

For an opener, the Stardust imported the celebated Lido show from Paris. Never in Las Vegas history were so many showgirls covered by so little. Also adding to the spice were the clothed but talented Bluebell girls from England.

The Stardust show offered just about everything—from a swimming pool below the stage to an ice rink above it—and barebusted belles descending from overhead.

"This is the end," exclaimed the well-traveled Hope. Most of the first nighters agreed.

2 Train Riders Fined

Two men were fined $15 and costs each in Marion Municipal Court Wednesday on charges of train riding.

They were: G. C. Foughty, 22, of Dubuque, Iowa and A. W. Hillyer, 20, of Chauncey.

They were arrested on the Erie railroad property Tuesday by Erie police.

Furloughed at Crestline

CRESTLINE—The Pennsylvania Railroad has placed 47 of its employes at its diesel repair shop in Crestline on furlough, it announced today. The railroad blamed a continuing decline of business for the layoffs. The cutback affects 25 per cent of the 209 men employed at the local shop.

fall in most places was generally light.

The East-West band of showers and thunderstorms was expected to continue, stretching from southern New England and parts of the Middle Atlantic states westward into the central plains. More showers also were indicated in the Rockies and along the Gulf Coast region, including all of Florida.

The warm weather extended from New England south into the Carolinas and westward across the Mississippi Valley to the eastern slopes of the Rockies. The mercury again Wednesday topped the 90 - degree mark in many areas.

Residents in this area who take to the highways during the long holiday weekend are cautioned by safety officials that Ohio's traffic toll probably will exceed 20. Last year, 31 Ohioans died as a result of traffic mishaps over the four-day period from Thursday through Sunday and 11 highway fatalities were recorded on the Fourth.

All law enforcement agencies have promised to beef up normal patrols, make more arrests and issue fewer warnings in an effort to put a damper on the weekend toll.

IN ADDITION to the Lincoln Park program, the Marion Country Club will be the scene of considerable holiday activity. On tap Friday are family picnics, a holiday golf tournament and a fireworks display.

The Country Club pool will be the only one open in Marion on the Fourth.

A spokesman for the Mayfair Construction Co., which is working on the Marion Olympic pool on State Rt. 95, said the pool probably will be completed and ready for use between July 18 and 20. Earlier it was hoped the pool would be ready for the holiday.

Joseph Galloway of the city park board said it is hoped that renovation of the Lincoln Park pool will be completed between the first and middle of August. J. W. Weaver, the contractor, began work on the pool last week.

City Hall and Courthouse offices will be closed both Friday and Saturday and will reopen Monday morning. The Post Office will close Friday but will be open for business until Saturday noon. Kindergarten pupils will have a holiday Friday also.

Royal Oaks subdivision and Marion Plaza shopping center.

In announcing the signing of the contract between the city and District 1 today, Mayor Strong noted that the 103 lots in the two housing developments, which were exempted by City Council from paying a $100 tapping fee, are listed by lot number in the contract.

Council exempted the lots because of the additional expense to the developers of building trunk sewers to serve other areas as well as their own. Taps in the shopping center and the County Home also were exempted from the tapping fee.

All other future taps into the sanitary sewers in District 1 will require payment of a $100 fee to the city under terms of the contract.

Legislation authorizing the signing of the contract and construction of the Forest Lawn Dr. sewer extension was adopted by Council June 23 over vetoes by Mayor Strong.

Ike Turned Down in Bid To Hike Aid

President's Appeals To Restore Cuts Are Disregarded in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has voted 253-126 to take what President Eisenhower called the "reckless risk" of cutting 872 million dollars off his foreign aid money requests.

The Senate may restore some of this fund. But the indicators pointed toward a possible three-quarter billion dollar final reduction under the $3,900,000,000 in new money the President originally asked.

House passage Wednesday of a $3,078,000,000 appropriations measure handed Eisenhower a stinging rebuff in his drive for "more ammunition to wage the peace." By a 2-1 margin, the House members ignored his contention at a White House news conference that their action would "encourage Communist imperialists."

Serious Setback

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, commenting on reports of the action as a setback to Eisenhower, said:

"The President thinks the country and the free world suffered a serious setback today."

Eisenhower's personally conducted campaign for more money bore fruit among House Republicans but failed to enlist many Democrats. On a test vote to restore 75 million dollars in defense support funds, 105 Republicans and 60 Democrats voted for the larger amount. However, 74 Republicans and 140 Democrats joined to defeat the proposal.

On the final roll call, 146 Democrats and 107 Republicans voted for passage. Against were 57 Democrats and 69 Republicans.

Ceiling Fixed

When the Senate Appropriations Committee takes up the bill next week, it will be operating under an authorization measure which fixed a ceiling nearly 300 million dollars less than Eisenhower's request but still 597½ million above the House-passed figure.

This represents the full amount the Senate could restore to the bill. But most senators thought any additions would be less than half that total.

Chairman Carl Hayden (D-Ariz) declined to predict in advance what the Appropriations Committee will do. It will begin hearings on the bill next Tuesday.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the conference of all GOP senators, said he and other members of the committee "will make every effort we can to restore a substantial amount of these funds."

But Sens. William F. Knowland (R-Calif) and Styles Bridges (R-NH), other committee members, have said the totals would fall short of Eisenhower's goals.

Democrats indicated they will join in an effort to restore at least part of the 325 million dollars the House cut from Eisenhower's request for the development loan fund designed to help underdeveloped nations gain economic progress.

Byesville Complains Of Telephone Service

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The village of Byesville and the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. (now General Telephone Co. of Ohio) today were given additional time to try to work out service complaints filed by Mayor Dale Kenny of the village.

The mayor not only complained service was poor, but asked for toll-free telephone service to Cambridge. The company had been given until June 30 to answer the complaints filed with the Utilities Commission. The commission today gave the company until July 30 to answer the complaints.

A spokesman said a solution may be reached before that time.

Bucyrus Board Okays Plan for Debt Payment

BUCYRUS—The Bucyrus Board of Education Wednesday night approved a contract for the payment of indebtedness of $1,040 over a three-year period of the Bucyrus City School District by the Whetstone School District.

The indebtedness resulted from the transfer of the Don Young property at the east edge of Bucyrus from the Bucyrus district to the Whetstone district. The transfer already has been approved by the Bucyrus, Whetstone and Crawford County school boards.

The proposal for a three-year period to pay the indebtedness has the approval of both city solicitor Richard Cory and Prosecutor John D. Sears Jr., Supt. I. J. Miller reported.

The board also hired Miss Joann Basil of Detroit as an elementary teacher to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Edith M. Barger who has moved to Pennsylvania. Miss Basil is a graduate of Valparaiso University in Indiana. She has had two years experience.

The contract of Henry Miller, janitor at Lincoln Elementary School was terminated by the board, effective Aug. 1.

An easement for a driveway and parking area at Norton School was approved. The area is on school property and land owned by the adjoining Church of Christ in Christian Union.

Public hearing on the 1959 school budget will be held at 12:30 p.m. Thursday, July 17.

Scandals

N. Craig in the early part of Craig's administration. Sherwood, a former state adjutant general, was a top adviser of Craig.

Sayer and Sherwood were accused of conspiring to bribe and bribing Virgil W. (Red) Smith, former chairman of the State Highway Commission, in sales to the state of highway equipment totaling more than $600,000.

The sales were part of more than $1,630,000 in equipment sold to the state by Mogilner in seven deals in 1955 and 1956.

The defense contended that Mogilner hired Sherwood and Sayer as public relations representatives. Mogilner, who spent six days on the witness stand, testified that the three plotted with Smith to arrange highly profitable sales to the highway department.

Khrushchev

The new Soviet ideas on doing something about making it more difficult for the great powers to launch massive surprise attacks were set forth in a letter from Soviet Premier Khrushchev to President Eisenhowed Wednesday.

More Promising Stand

Some U.S. officials were reported to regard Khrushchev's suggestions as more promising than the formerly unacceptable proposals as set forth thus far for inspection of each other's territory. While refusing to divulge details, some officials said Khrushchev's ideas, if sincere, could eventually open the door to limited East-West cooperation to guard against sudden attack.

The Soviet charge d'affaires, Sergei Striganov, ballyhooed Khrushchev's new message as "an important new initiative" by Moscow to ease dangerous East-West tensions.

He gave this description when he handed the letter to Under Secretary of State Christian Herter Jr. but declined to provide any detail. He reported only that it covered "a new, important issue."

Prevention Measures

A State Department spokesman afterward told newsmen tersely that the Khrushchev proposals dealt with measures to prevent surprise attack.

Press officer Lincoln White noted this is a problem on which the United States has itself taken the initiative since President Eisenhower's "open skies" inspection proposal in 1955.

Russia's earlier inspection plan called for both sides to check armaments and military movement in a Central European area 800 kilometers on each of the West-East German frontier. Western nations rejected this as unacceptable on the grounds it would tend to perpetuate the division of Germany and because of other conditions the Soviets attached to the plan.

Eisenhower had proposed that the Soviets agree to an tic inspection zone as a start point to allay Soviet fears that American atomic bombers on routine training flights might attack Soviet territory.

The Soviets bitterly rejected this in a United Nations debate in May.

Radio and Television

By MARIE TORRE

Frustrations of an Author

"Since my arrival in New York with my first television series effort," read the telegram from author Arch Oboler, "I have been reading with interest your comments regarding the poor prospects for next season.

Marie Torre

"The networks soon will be displaying for you their next seasons Western and quiz shows. I would like to invite you to a private screening of a program you will not see on the air next season and personally tell you why.

"I promise you a newsworthy half hour which will answer to some extent the networks' claim that you TV editors are without cause deriding their television programming."

MR. OBOLER, a master purveyor of stories of the unusual, didn't overstate his case. At the screening, he seemed like a man who had been thrown off balance as a result of a series of frustrations that attended his TV pursuits since early last month.

At that time Mr. Oboler arrived from Hollywood in high spirits. On his face was an expression of confidence and in his fist was the result of a year's work at the typewriter—a total of 39 completed scripts for a series called "Arch Oboler's Plays." In the write-as-you-go world of television, that's unheard of.

Anyway, after weeks and weeks of meetings with TV executives at networks and agencies, Mr. Oboler faced the horrible realization that he couldn't lasso anyone into reading the objects of his enthusiasm. Nobody had the time!

Most of the television buyers, however, did grant Oboler 30 minutes of their time to view the pilot film, and even though said film hardly offered a clue to the full contents of the anthology series (ranging from love stories to horror plays), it was the sole basis for their decisions.

"OH, THERE was lots of interest in the series," put in Mr. Oboler. "I was practically at the contract singing stage with one sponsor which at the last minute decided to put its money on a comedian next season.

"Officials at one network expressed real interest in the project, but they didn't think it was 'in trend' for 1958-59. I don't know how they figure out such things, but they said my series would be very good for 1959-60.

"At another network, they wouldn't look at the pilot film, even though they had approached me a year ago and offered to put up half of the money to finance it. Now they're not interested because they have no investment in it."

What disturbs Mr. Oboler, a thinking man, is that he sees television repeating a mistake that was practiced widely in the movies.

-:-

"INSIDE OF a decade," he said, "television is doing what it took the movies 50 years to do. I'll explain.

"Some years ago, when I was working in motion pictures, I begged Louis B. Mayer to be a little daring in a certain movie. He listened, but his attitude was fixed. He said that the only important thing was to have Clark Gable and Myrna Loy in a movie, and the material be damned.

"Now that same error is being compounded in television. It was done last year with Frank Sinatra, and I'm afraid they're going to do it again with a charming guy named Bing Crosby. In 10 years, television has ossified its thinking."

Mr. Oboler shrugged in puzzlement.

"And yet," he continued, "men in the industry keep talking about wanting to do the daring, the new and the fresh.

"This is sheer baloney, and I'd use a better word if I had a Thesaurus handy. I met one of those breast-beaters, an independent producer, several weeks ago. He asked to read a new play I had written with the possibility of producing it on television next season.

-:-

"DURING THE two weeks he had my script he was so busy making public statements about the sameness of television programming that he never got around to reading my script — or finding anything but adaptations of old stories for his productions next season.

"This, to me, is sheer phoniness. On one hand he talks about doing the daring and the new, and then he turns right around and plays it safe. It's symptomatic of the networks."

Fully aware that "playing it safe" is an old TV game, Mr. Oboler purposely attempted to bridle his galloping imagination in the pilot film ("I made it on their level, if you know what I mean").

Nevertheless, it was a well-done haunting film, an off-beat story about a young mechanical genius who manages to resurrect the voice of his dead grandmother.

After the screening, Mr. Oboler lamented: "Maybe I should have written a ghost story about a six-shooter."

9 Captured Americans Say 'We'll Sweat It Out'

The East German Foreign Ministry Wednesday answered repeated requests by the AP's Berlin correspondent for a news conference with the nine U.S. Army men held since June 7. He and eight European Communist reporters were driven to the villa in Dresden, 100 miles south of Berlin, where the men are under house arrest. The AP man was the only American reporter.

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

DRESDEN, East Germany (AP) "We'll sweat it out as long as it takes."

This pledge came from Maj. George E. Kemper, the senior officer and spokesman for nine U.S. Army men who turned themselves in to East German police June 7 after they got lost on a helicopter flight in West Germany and ran out of gas behind the Iron Curtain. Negotiations for their release are deadlocked.

The soldiers complained at a news conference staged by East German officials Wednesday that they are being held as political hostages. "We have been treated courteously," Kemper added.

Short Interview Permitted

The 43-year-old artillery officer from Escondido, Calif., was able to speak to me alone for only a few minutes.

As East German officials stopped back for picture taking, Kemper hurriedly asked what was being done by the United States to obtain their release. Their only source of information has been East German newspapers.

I told him of State Department demands on Russia for their immediate release, of statements by Secretary of State Dulles of President Eisenhower's interest, and of U.S. refusal to sign an agreement with East Germany which might imply recognition of the Red regime.

"That's enough for us," Kemper said. "You can tell them we'll sweat it out as long as it takes." His lean, tense face broke into a grin.

Speaking for the other seven officers and one sergeant, Kemper said, "We are soldiers and we can stay here indefinitely, but we want to know what is going on. . . ."

Alexander Gruettner, the East German Foreign Ministry official who ran the news conference, said the United States should sign a protocol similar to the one by which Belgium won release of a jet pilot who strayed into East Germany May 29.

The State Department is demanding that Russia release the Americans under the Big Four occupation agreement making the Soviets responsible for protecting Western interests in East Germany. Russia replies that this is a case for the East Germans to settle.

Kemper said the helicopter was on a routine flight from Frankfort to a West German training area near the Iron Curtain, got lost and ran out of gas. The pilot was forced to land and they were arrested, he said.

The nine now are living comfortably by East German standards in a once-elegant eight-room villa on a quiet, tree-lined street.

They have the run of a large garden with a volleyball court, occupy three bedrooms, and have the use of dining and club rooms. Their entertainment consists of chess, cards and volleyball. They also have East German books and newspapers, East German television and Communist films, although Kemper said no effort has been made to indoctrinate them. They have English Bibles to read and are allowed to receive letters from their families.

The soldiers can order whatever food they like and may have all the candy, cigarettes, beer and wine they want. But hard liquor is barred.

The East Germans have supplied them with athletic clothes to wear in place of their uniforms, which are cleaned regularly, and they are given new underwear weekly.

2 Damage Suits Filed Here After Traffic Accidents

Two damage suits growing out of separate city traffic accidents were filed Wednesday in Common Pleas Court.

Mrs. Virgie Hickman Hatcher of 954 N. Main St. is seeking $25,665 from Otto Bishop and Richard Suver, operating as a Galion partnership, for alleged injuries and damage to her car incurred last Sept. 16.

The other suit was filed by Arnold Stewart of near Marion who asks $3,475 from R. W. Arnett of 835 N. State St. for alleged damages resulting from an accident here Nov. 23, 1956.

Mrs. Hatcher alleges her auto was parked headed east at the south curb of E. Center St. when it was struck from behind by a car driven by George K. Long, an agent of the Galion partnership. She charges the defendants with negligence and alleges she will be required to wear a brace for life while engaging in more than light work as a result of a neck injury. The plaintiff is represented by the law firm of Moore, Myers and Parsell.

In the other action filed Wednesday, Mr. Stewart alleges he was driving south on S. State St. near the intersection of Church St. when his auto was struck from behind by the defendant's car.

The plaintiff alleges his wife, Bernice, who was a passenger in his car, suffered permanent neck injuries and will require medical attention for the next five years. Mr. Stewart is represented by George A. Piacentino.

'51 Car Found In Irey Quarry

Check Shows It Was Stolen in October, '55

Marion County Sheriff Glenn Obenour is faced with a problem: what to do with a yellow convertible found in abandoned Irey stone quarry, located near Whetstone Creek about 15 miles southeast of Marion off State Rt. 98.

A Columbus man, Herbert Lloyd, called Sheriff Obenour to report that two boys, swimming in the quarry, had seen a strange shadow under the water.

The sheriff contacted skin divers from the local YMCA who discovered that the shadow was caused by an automobile, resting on the quarry's bottom in 26 feet of water.

The 1951 auto bore 1955 license plates and a check revealed them to have been sold to a Donald Clark, 24, of Cardington, now living in California. Further investigation revealed that the car had been reported stolen Oct. 26, 1955.

The sheriff is awaiting word today from the insurance company which handled the loss to see if they wish to make recovery of the car.

'Right To Work' Proposal Attacked At Labor Meeting

Labor's job in the so-called "right to work" controversy is to "fully acquaint the Ohio public with the true dangers of this proposal," the director of United Organized Labor of Ohio said here last night.

Speaking before a meeting of the AFL-CIO Council at the UAW Hall, Walter L. Davis charged the proposed amendment is "an ill-concealed attempt to break unions in Ohio by outlawing union security clauses in labor-management contracts."

The UOLO director asserted that the Chamber of Commerce and Ohioans for Right to Work are "trying to buy their way onto the ballot by hiring paid petition circulators at 20 cents and more a name."

He said the attorney of Ohioans for Right to Work admitted this in testimony before the Akron City Council, when the council was considering a resolution in opposition to the proposal. The resolution was passed unanimously and city councils of Cleveland, Canton, Lorain and Bellaire also have resolved in opposition to the proposed constitutional amendment, he said.

Proponents of the measure must secure 354,209 valid signatures on petitions by Aug. 5 in order to qualify for the November ballot, Mr. Davis said.

Auto Accidents

Two persons were injured in two of five traffic accidents investigated Wednesday by Marion police. State patrolmen reported no accidents in the county.

Hurt in an automobile-motorcycle collision at Kenton and Cass avenues at 9:40 a.m. was Gene H. Jacobs, 30, of Nevada, operator of the motorcycle.

He suffered cuts on the face and legs. Driver of the car was R. F. LaBounty, 20, of near Prospect.

He was driving east on Kenton Ave. and Jacobs was driving the motorcycle out of a service station driveway onto Kenton Ave.

The other person injured was Arthur Erwin, 12, of 304 Chestnut St. He suffered an arm injury when his bike was struck from the rear by an automobile at Silver and Maple streets at 4:01 p.m.

Driver of the car was John Mulligan, 55, of near Richwood. Police said both were traveling east on Silver St. and Arthur was making a left turn.

He required no immediate medical attention for his injury.

A car parked in the 300 block on W. Columbia St. owned by Mrs. Melvin Rankin of 592 E. George St. was struck by a car driven by Fred Mossbarger, 56, of 615 Pearl St. at 4:40 p.m.

A car driven by H. V. Draper, 41, of 258 Fairview Ave. struck another car from the rear in the 200 block on N. Prospect St. at 1:58 p.m. The other car was driven by J. E. Heller, 31, of 882 N. Main St.

A collision at Main and Center streets at 11:12 a.m. involved cars driven by J. L. Hilden, 26, of Minneapolis, and Melvin Plotner, 20, of near Marion.

Police Reports

Violet Turner of 195 Barnhart St. reported the theft of an air cleaner and carburetor from her car Wednesday. She said the theft occurred sometime between Saturday night and Monday morning while the car was parked at the rear of 255 W. Center St.

—:—

Theft of a 12-gauge automatic shotgun from the Montgomery Ward store on W Center St. was reported Wednesday afternoon. The gun was valued at $136.

—:—

Robert Showers of 1122 Merkel Ave. reported that the radio antenna was broken off his car sometime Wednesday night while it was parked at his residence.

Institution Inmate Files Petition Asking Release

Anthony D. Krieger, 30-year-old inmate at the Marion Correctional Institution, today filed a petition in Common Pleas Court for release on a writ of habeas corpus.

Krieger contends he was erroneously sentenced to the Ohio Penitentiary from Lucas County in August, 1957, on a charge of possessing narcotics. He alleges he was sentenced to 2 to 20 years when the term should have been 2 to 15 years.

Lamoyne Green, institution superintendent, said today that Krieger's records have since been changed to show that the sentence is 2 to 15 years.

Krieger was transferred from the penitentiary to the local institution last Nov. 26.

Council Makes Direct Approach

In setting up a meeting of Vernon Heights representatives at City Hall next Monday night to discuss annexation, City Council's municipal services committee made a head-on approach to the problem.

This idea of bringing Heights residents on both sides of the annexation issue into the city for a meeting has much to recommend it, including plain logic.

We hope this effort proves helpful for several reasons, not the least of which is the fact that the direct method of attacking a controversial question usually is the quickest, fairest way of finding a solution.

The Vernon Heights annexation proposal has important implications that are both specific and general.

Some residents of the subdivision will claim that the city has no business scheduling a meeting to promote annexation, and in the specific sense their contention will have an element of merit in it.

On the other hand, the problem of annexing suburban areas is a major one in most cities throughout the country, and the Vernon Heights case has become a test proposition for Marion.

For that reason it will be extremely interesting to hear city officials enumerate the advantages of joining the municipality.

To anyone who has not followed the matter closely, do not make the mistake of thinking this is a "black and white" issue where right and wrong are clearly defined. Far from it.

There are benefits to be derived from annexing to the city, but many of the material ones would in no way be immediate.

While respecting the opinions of those on both sides of what is largely a neighborhood affair, this newspaper has encouraged the proponents because it knows most of them are motivated by a sincere desire to participate actively in the affairs of the city.

Since there can be relatively little argument that this is Marion's No. 1 residential area of any size, much of the city's leadership can be found there.

Disregarding for the moment any dollars and cents consideration, it would be a development of major importance from the standpoint of civic pride to have Vernon Heights in the city.

We hope sincerely the city's bid to reach an understanding with the annexation opponents will be crowned with success.

What Are We Trying To Prove?

If Americans need one thing to restore their souls as free men, they need to decide what they mean by independence.

Their purposes have been confused by conflicting counsel and muddy thinking — by generations of hair-splitting and compromising.

They have been victimized in much the same way that the founders of independence were victimized by Tory trimmers who could think of a hundred good reasons for putting up with injustice, because they lacked one all-powerful reason for not putting up with it.

The Tories had no personal version of independence that was worth fighting for. They did not know what they wanted more than they wanted to get along as peaceably and profitably as possible with their oppressors.

It seems not to have occurred to anyone that Americans in the second half of the 18th century, living under a tyrant, split up in the same way that U.S. prisoners split up under Communist tyrants in the Korean episode.

"Weak sisters" who did not know why independence was important enough to fight for and suffer for became the Tories of the Korean War; they sided with the enemy. There always will be the same division in a showdown. The Tories, willing to accommodate their views to those of their masters, will be with us always.

And they always will have a hundred good reasons to persuade their fellow citizens to put up with injustice and oppression, to look the other way, to keep their mouths shut and to pay the oppressor the price he is charging for easing up on oppression.

They will put up a plausible argument for a little more taxation without representation, the contention that some men are more equal than others, that the content of the governed is a fuddy-duddy formality, that remote oppression is more bearable than homegrown oppression;

That it is permissible to bribe people with their own money, that bureaucracy and tax-eating activities can be foisted on people without fear of the consequences, that the American people can be subjected to jurisdictions foreign to their Constitution without any recourse;

And that all or any of the other offenses to free men listed in the Declaration of Independence are of no particular consequence —certainly not worth fighting for.

Too many Americans never have decided what they mean, personally, by independence. They have drifted into the attitude that independence is an abstraction — a right to be asserted only if worse comes to worst, instead of a right to be fought for every minute of every hour of every day, to keep oppressors from entrenching themselves.

It is not amiss to remember on every Independence Day that the original founders of Independence were a minority in 1776 and its guardians have been a minority ever since — but vigilant enough to preserve what their spiritual ancestors pledged their lives, their fortunes and their honor to obtain.

Racket Probe Back in Headlines

Sooner or later, the Senate's investigation of rackets was bound to lead to the sinister, half-seen power of the "syndicate," sometimes referred to as the Mafia.

This is the conspiracy of organized vice operators and borderline businessmen who have polished the art of using easy money to purchase easier terms for their existence than they could depend on if they lived within the law.

One of the outlets for their ingenuity and ruthlessness has been organized labor. They have been equally busy in a few forms of business that are just respectable enough to give them a front but not respectable enough to handicap their easy money activities.

This field of investigation should be as fruitful as anything the Senate investigators ever have looked into. It has been looked into before only once—by Sen. Kefauver, away back in 1950.

The late Rudolph Halley and his sharp questioning of witnesses like Frank Costello marked the advent of television as a coming form of adult entertainment. They signalized the emergency of Estes Kefauver as a public figure of such magnitude that he has not been forgiven to this day for revealing the connection between organized vice and the corrupt political organizations that make America's big cities safe for the Democratic party in nearly all national elections.

But aside from these incidental and accidental effects, the Kefauver investigation marched up the hill and marched back down again. That to date seems to be the net effect of the rackets investigation under Sen. McClellan.

The headlines it has made were sensational; the headlines it is about to make may be even more sensational. But there is no likelihood that any law will be passed to curb racketeering in unionism, in management, or in anything else which might cramp the style of important contributors to political campaigns.

Need for Specialists

City Council chose the only logical way to launch a city income tax study when a decision was reached Monday night to call in two consulting firms for a full-scale discussion.

Such a tax is quite workable, as has been demonstrated in numerous cities, but there's absolutely no doubt its establishment is extremely complicated.

Even after it is put into operation with the aid of consultants, most cities that have the tax employ specially-trained personnel to supervise collection.

Municipal operation has become truly complex in recent years, and the only way to proceed in a planned, orderly fashion is with the aid of people who have long backgrounds of education and experience in specific fields.

The consideration of a city income tax is one of the areas where outside assistance is clearly indicated.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

America once marked the 4th of July with fireworks. It now marks it with ambulance calls, police-car sirens and snarls of "Where did you learn to drive?" The symbol of a three-day 4th is the Tow-Car.

Observing Americans rushing like crazy to shore and mountain, you wonder that there was a day when they went up Bunker Hill without speedometers. It is hard to believe Paul Revere made his ride without power steering.

"One if by land and two if by sea" is now a signal between squad cars to indicate if the wild driver is headed for the lake or somebody's front yard.

The roads are full of people who think the Declaration of Independence reads:

"1. We hold these truths to be self evident: that all men are created equal, with some men more equal than others, especially at traffic lights.

"2. That they are endowed with certain inalienable rights, among which are life, liberty, arrogance and the pursuit of nervous breakdowns, ptomaine poisoning, sunburn and highway arguments.

"3. That whenever these rights are obstructed by government, state or city laws, it is the privilege of people in a hurry to ignore such laws.

"4. The history of government reveals repeated tyrannies. It has passed laws restricting zigzaggers and imposed upon the people the white line, the No-Passing sign, the Dangerous Curve emblem and the Caution Light, thereby cramping the style of auto drivers everywhere.

"5. It has kept among us armies of traffic police and empowered them to ask, 'Where's the fire, buster?'—'Lemme see your flying license,' etc. It has permitted summonses and fines. It has encouraged safety first days, Drive Safely Weeks and Behave-Like-Human-Beings Months. These are more than an auto operator can endure.

"We therefore declare autoists to be free, independent, all-important and immune to horse sense, pity, rules of common courtesy and a decent regard for others."

How Long Do We Count 10?

New U.S. Bonanza

By David Lawrence

It isn't often that a state is admitted to the Union. The last time it happened was 46 years ago when Arizona and New Mexico came in.

Lawrence

The event caused a lot of excitement and the boom isn't over in those states yet. The admission of Alaska will bring the same kind of excitement — new hope and new adventure.

For a new state means new opportunities for millions of people. It means some hardship, of course, for new settlers. But it means also a chance to make money — and that's a motivation which has stirred men many times in American history. Thus the "gold rush" to the Klondike area in Alaska in 1896 took on the same pattern as the "gold rush" to California in 1849.

What does the entry of a new state really mean? It affects not merely those who want to set up a stake in the 103-million acres previously owned by the government that will be thrown open to settlement. Our own Pacific Northwest will benefit by the increased trade, and indirectly there will be an impact commercially on the people of the United States as a whole.

For if Alaska — which in area is twice the size of Texas — becomes more heavily populated, it means a new market for many products.

Likewise, if the valuable oil resources of Alaska are developed, it could mean that the American consumer of oil will be less dependent on the oil that comes from the troublous Middle East.

It could mean that tankers some day will go from Alaskan ports direct to some Asian countries. Oil means a chance for industrialization of regions not now able to buy cheap fuel.

POLITICALLY Alaska will add a few electoral votes. There will be 98 United States senators instead of 96, and 436 members of the U.S. House of Representatives instead of 435. In a close situation — as, for instance, in the Senate where in recent years there has been almost a tie between the two parties —the two Alaska votes could be decisive on many questions of public policy.

Internationally, the addition of Alaska to the Union should not mean much change. But there is perhaps a sentimental difference when one of our states becomes the border of the mainland of Russia and it is no longer an area of just territorial or colonial status. Certainly there will be more of a national consciousness now that the United States is actually adjacent to Soviet Russia in the Siberian region.

To many Americans Alaska is something remote, a place that's very cold in winter. It's true that Alaska is the first state of the Union that reaches across the Arctic Circle, but its resources are fabulous.

The opponents of statehood argued that it would mean a radical change in the character of the Union, for now there will be a big expanse of land between the other 48 states and the 49th.

IT ISN'T so certain what Hawaii's fate will be. One group argues that there is too much communistic activity in Hawaii and the other thinks a good way to get rid of it would be to admit Hawaii into the Union.

Certainly a new state can establish a full system of state courts of its own and a whole set of administrative facilities. It is no longer dependent on the federal government in Washington, which usually handles all territorial affairs in an already overburdened Department of the Interior.

Looking northward, in between the 48 states and the 49th, there is the vast area of Western Canada. A good highway goes from our Pacific Northwest to Alaska and the trip takes about seven days by automobile. Airline planes cover the distance in a few hours.

It's possible that there now will be a revival of talk about a merger with Canada.

This has often been suggested in American history but has always met with disfavor by most of the people of Canada, whose basic ties are with Britain. Fundamentally Americans, like Britons and Canadians, will object to anything likely to deprive each of their national traditions. But with what has been happening in the world in recent years, especially in defense problems in the Arctic, it is not unthinkable that Britain and Canada will be urged to join a three-cornered union of some kind with the United States.

Vacation Reform

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Curbstone comments of a pavement Plato:

Are you puzzled over what to do on your vacation?

HAL BOYLE

Many men are. They know that if they go to the mountains they will have to help the children pick wild flowers to paste in their memory books. They know that if they go to the seashore, they will have to help the children collect seashells.

And they know if they stay home their wife will keep them busy 16 hours a day doing odd jobs around the house, such as repairing the vacuum cleaner, hanging wallpaper or picking green worms off the tomato plants—chores any strong, able-bodied woman ought to attend to herself.

If you're in this plight, here's an idea. Why not use your vacation to reform and improve yourself?

Most men start their self-reform campaigns on New Year's Day. This is a bad time. A man's resistance is so low in winter that he barely has the strength to continue his vices—let alone summon up the extra strength required to abandon them.

THERE IS ANOTHER factor. Vacation is the only time when a man can reform while lying down. Any other period of the year he will be standing up or moving about. Reform under this added stress and strain is almost impossible.

Still another advantage to giving up bad habits while on vacation is that there is no sudden wrench about it. You are in no hurry and can improve yourself slowly and leisurely.

But perhaps it might be better to give a constructive example.

Let us suppose you have gone to the seashore and want to cut down on your smoking and drinking. Here's what you do.

YOU STRETCH out on the sand and put a pack of cigarettes and a pitcher of martinis before you. You say, "I'm not going to take a smoke or a drink for one full minute." Each day you add another minute of waiting before you indulge yourself. At the end of a two-week vacation you will be able to go a full 14 minutes.

This may not seem like a major achievement, but look at it this way: if you continue this reform program on every vacation for 40 years you will wind up being able to go 9 hours and 20 minutes without giving way to thirst or the desire for a pep-up puff. It's the little triumphs that add up in life.

Actually, if a fellow just doesn't rush it, there's no vice he can't give up or art he can't learn on a vacation—and return a better man for it.

If you must be finer fellow, learn how out of town.

Federal Aid Unwanted

By Raymond Moley

This is the month when the thoughts of thousands turn collegeward. "Bright happy years" and all that sort of thing.

There are visits to colleges by graduates for class reunions, innumerable addresses by college administrators and by commencement speakers, and learned editorials in the public press.

Much of the comment has properly pointed to the need for generous aid for the private colleges.

This year interest in the problems of higher education is greater than ever. Within 12 months there have been the sputniks and the revelation of our deficiencies in science teaching.

There is also the recession, with a great tide of proposals in Congress for spending, including various schemes for helping either education, the educators, or the educated.

There has also been a new Eisenhower program designed mostly to deal with some phases of higher education.

IN THE MIDST of all this, it is useful to single out a calm, constructive, factual statement on the subject of higher education by an able and successful college president who tilts at no windmills of educational faddism.

George C. S. Benson is president of Claremont Men's College at Claremont, Calif. He was also director of research for the President's Commission on Intergovernmental Relations which went into the subject of federal grants in considerable detail. Thus, Benson is able to know and evaluate not only the real, as against the fancied needs of private colleges, but the nature and consequences of federal intervention in their support. His essay, "National Aid to Higher Education," was published recently by the American Enterprise Association. He was assisted in this study by John M. Payne.

The Benson study comes to grips with proposals for federal aid sponsored in Congress not only by President Eisenhower but by a wide variety of members.

Like President Eisenhower's brother, Dr. Milton of Johns Hopkins, Benson flatly opposes any federal aid, with a few minor concessions.

He says and proves from experience that whenever Congress sends money anywhere, a bureaucrat follows close behind.

Thus aid begets control — political and ideological control — and control of that sort is a mortal peril to the independence and freedom of academic inquiry and teaching.

HE POINTS OUT that while the number of students enrolled in our colleges is due to continue to rise considerably in the foreseeable future, private support is also expanding and will, if continued, meet the needs in the years immediately ahead. Private giving to colleges doubled between the years 1955 and 1957.

Education is a valuable asset and should so far as possible be paid for by those parents and students who are the beneficiaries.

This will mean higher tuitions. But to ease the pressure in that respect, there should be some legislation like the Boggs-McCarthy bill, which would provide tax relief to parents who are sending their children to college.

There might also be some provision for a student who borrows money to finance his education to have a tax deduction in his later years.

So far as student loans and scholarships are concerned, Benson notes that the President's Committee on Education Beyond High School reported in 1957 that there is already a surplus in loan funds in many colleges and that the remedy for any deficiency in other institutions might well be remedied without federal help.

While the Ford Foundation recently made substantial grants to colleges, it is still true that Ford as well as many of the other large foundations might well provide funds to meet the needs of colleges and the students therein.

Under existing tax pressure, much of the wealth of the nation is accumulating in foundations and altogether too many of these institutions are concerned not in helping colleges do their jobs in their own way, but in thinking up new ways to spend what they have.

The facts presented by the Benson study amply justify his conclusion:

"Any national grant is a camel's nose in education's tent. Both history and folklore suggest that the camel will eventually take over."

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

Stoning and kidnaping having been restored to the place they occupied several thousand years ago, this would be a poor time for anyone to claim civilization is making giant strides out of the Ark Ages.

People who support baseball teams with their attendance would have to be of a low order of intelligence to fall for the trick of changing managers to speed up the turnstiles.

After that grim tragedy with the Air Force plane that was going to carry junketeering newspapermen overseas, I am reasonably glad that my job does not put me in line for invitations to go junketing.

I can remember when everybody worried about federal deficits, because the idea was universal that governments which couldn't make ends meet were no better than individuals and companies operating in the red.

In what strikes me as a curious twist on the aphorism that it's always darkest just before dawn, the new ball-point writing implements always are juiciest just before they run dry.

Whatever else the law can do, it is the only way invented so far to bring about an indefinite postponement of hot issues until they have had time to cool off.

In my lucid intervals, I speculate about the need for an all-out campaign to make the Fourth of July safe and sane for this country, now that the minor hazard of fireworks in the hands of the kiddies has been eliminated.

Apparently no one knows what to do with rhubarb, which continues to grow and proliferate long after the appetite for rhubarb has been sated with one round of pies and sauce.

Gamal Nasser, if you never have thought about it before, has been on top in Egypt since 1952 and premier since early in 1954, which shows surprising stability in a job few believed would last more than a few months.

It's not original to like summertime replacement shows on television, but I have figured out why they appeal to me: They must operate on smaller budgets and are not in so much danger of being hurt by extravagance.

For pure enjoyment, I will match the sensation of easing a sunburned body between a pair of clean, cool sheets with any of the other mundane pleasures.

If you are interested in estimates on the growth of the boating craze, there now are about 28 million Americans who aim to be afloat on nice weekends during the summer months.

The Department of Agriculture, reporting that cigarette puffing is at record height this year, says "cigarette demand is relatively inelastic with respect to income," which is another way of saying that smokers will indulge their habit at any cost.

There is a familiar saying about field corn, that it will not grow well until "your wife sleeps at night without covers." I am surprised to find that so many people with no direct farming connections have heard it.

I never have seen larger, redder cherries than those this year on the sour-cherry tree that grows next to our house. The birds think so too.

Honorary Citizenship Conferred on Sea Lion

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Cyril, the fugitive sea lion being returned to the London, Ont., zoo Sunday, will remain forever an honorary citizen of Toledo.

City Council voted unanimously Wednesday to give him that honor. Before going back to his original owners, the slippery mammal will be given a glass key to this glass-making center. A similar key will be taken to the director of the London zoo.

Custody of the sea lion brought on a bitter dispute. It had escaped from London June 17, swimming through several bodies of water before capture off Sandusky Bay in western Lake Erie last Friday. The Toledo Zoo claimed possession, later yielded.

Morrow Farmers Given Refund of Tax Money

MOUNT GILEAD — Morrow County farmers have been refunded a total of $5,817.42 in funds erroneously collected by the county in personal tax payments.

County Auditor Marold Taylor said that the money was being returned to farmers following a ruling made this spring that grain on government loans is non-taxable.

The taxes were collected in 1956 and 1957. About 130 farmers have received their refunds so far, Mr. Taylor said.

Galion Schools Hire New Nurse, Director of Shop

GALION — With the employment of three staff members at a special meeting of the Galion Board of Education Wednesday noon, the Galion school system reduced the number of vacancies to two teachers and a principal at the Senior High School. The board meeting was held in the office of Supt. J. Harold Blosser with James M. Robinson presiding.

Vacancies remaining to be filled are at the Junior High School where a home economics teacher and an English instructor are needed.

HIRED AT the meeting Wednesday was Mrs. Marion Roser of Galion, wife of James Roser, for the position of School nurse. She has been on the nursing staff at Galion Community Hospital since 1950, received her nurse's training at Grant Hospital in Columbus, and has a bachelor's degree from Capital University. She has had no school experience. She fills the vacancy made by the retirement of Miss Lucy Ailer who had been in the Galion system for 26 years.

Robert Baughman of Marion was employed as coordinator in the vocational shop department at Senior High School. He has over 20 years of industrial experience, and is a skilled machinist, and tool and die worker. Mr. Treherne has been principal of Senior High School here for the last two years. Some consideration was given possible candidates for the position, with action expected to be taken at the regular board meeting July 14.

Approval was given for the purchase of copper pipe for a water line to the new stadium at Heise Park to be purchased from the Victory White Metal Co. of Cleveland at a cost of $804. Clerk Isabel Monroe was authorized to make withdrawals from the stadium fund savings account to meet obligations incurred in connection with construction of the stadium now underway.

Figures of a budget were looked over, with the public hearing on the budget planned for the July 14 meeting.

Cleveland Asks Waivers on Lemon, Last of Big 4

Veteran Pitcher Assigned To San Diego Farm Team

CLEVELAND (AP)—The last of the Cleveland Indians' once famed "Big Four" is leaving the wigwam and a baseball era here has ended.

The last to go is Robert Granville Lemon, the Californian with an impish grin and a sinking fast ball that made him a 20-game winner in seven seasons. Waivers were asked on him Wednesday and he plans to leave Saturday for San Diego in the Pacific Coast League.

Feller First To Go

The first to go was Bob Feller who retired after a 1956 season in which he didn't win a game and lost four.

Last month Mike Garcia was waived out of the league. He is recovering from back surgery in St. Vincent's Charity Hospital.

Still pitching, but not for Cleveland, is Early Wynn whose current 8-6 record for the White Sox includes a 5-4 relief triumph over the Tribe in Chicago Tuesday.

Operation Fails

Wynn and Garcia joined Feller and Lemon and the Tribe in 1949, and from that season through 1954 when the Indians won 111 games and a pennant, the Big Four averaged 71½ victories a season. Feller, past his peak as a fireballer, chipped in with 85; Garcia, whose earned-run averages of 2.35 in 1949 and 2.37 in 1952 were lowest among the four, contributed 104 victories; Wynn won 112; and Lemon's total of 128 was the tops.

An operation that took 20 pieces of cartilege out of Lem's right elbow last winter failed to restore the old magic to his pitching arm.

BOB LEMON
Major League Career Ended

His lone 1958 game of record was a defeat, making his lifetime record 207-128. In the 25 1-3 innings he worked, he was so clobbered his earned-run average was 5.33.

"I talked this over with Frank Lane and Joe Gordon in Chicago this week," Lem said Wednesday night. "So it wasn't any shocker to me."

With his 38th birthday coming up in September, Lemon appears to be through. Morrie Martin, a 35-year-old southpaw purchased from St. Louis for the $20,000 waiver price, will arrive Friday to take his place on the roster.

Yanks Win On Hurling Of Monroe

By The Associated Press

Zack Monroe, a rookie right-hander just shy of his 27th birthday, has stamped himself a success in his first major league start for the New York Yankees. Which is like bootleggin' booze to Peoria, Zack's home town.

Manager Casey Stengel already had a waiting list of starting pitchers on a staff that leads the American League in complete games and shutouts, not to mention that 9½-game first place bulge.

(In case you're wondering, Peoria, a long-time but now late member of the Three-I League, is known for distilleries as well as tractors.)

Tigers Clip A's

While Monroe, who perfected a palm ball because he couldn't master a change up pitch, was staying out of trouble for a 4-1 victory over Baltimore Wednesday the Detroit Tigers knocked off second place Kansas City 5-0 on the four-hit pitching of Jim Bunning. Washington defeated Boston 5-3 despite Ted Williams in the only other AL game scheduled.

Monroe, a holdover from the spring rookie school who was farmed to Denver for lack of room on the Yankee staff, had worked only 3 1-3 innings since being recalled une 15, and that was a shutout, no-hit relief job against the A's. Wednesday, he allowed five hits, one Dick Williams' first homer of the season that tied it 1-all, walked five and struck out two in seven innings. Ryne Duren mopped up after Monroe tired.

Billy O'Dell (8-9) gave up a run on three singles in the first, then blanked the Yankees until the seventh, when Tony Kubek's single scored the winning run.

4th Win in Row

Bunning walked but two and struck out five while winning his fourth in a row for a 6-5 record. Gail Harris hit his sixth homer and Al Kaline, hitless in three games, rapped a RBI double for the Tigers. Ralph Terry lost it for a 5-6 record with the A's, who were without slugging Bob Cerv, out with a broken toe and bruised hand.

Williams drove in all of Boston's runs, two with a 500-foot homer, his 13th of the year and fifth in six games. The Sox had the tying run on base in the ninth when Faye Throneberry stabbed Lou Berberet's pinch homer bid for the final out. Camilo Pascual (4-4) won it with relief help. Clint Courtney's two singles drove in three runs for the Senators, who bagged it with two unearned runs in the eighth off Tom Brewer (3-7).

FANCY MEETING YOU HERE. Yankee right fielder Hank Bauer slides safely into third base in Wednesday's game with Baltimore. Greeting him is Oriole third sacker Robinson. Robinson had fielded a hit by the Yankees' "Moose" Skowron and beat it to the bag in an attempt to catch Bauer, coming down the line from second. Bauer got there first, however, in this eighth-inning play and New York went on to down Baltimore 4-1. (UPI Telephoto)

Frank Thomas Named as Top Player in NL

CINCINNATI (AP) — Frank Thomas, slugging Pittsburgh Pirates third-sacker with a talent for hitting homers, is the National League's Player-of-the Month for June.

Thomas, who currently leads the league in homers with 22 and runs batted in with 66, picked up 15 votes in balloting by newsmen and broadcasters.

His closest competitor for the league's monthly award was Dick Farrell star reliever for Philadelphia's Phils, who collected 10½ votes.

Thomas, a starter in the All-Star game next Tuesday, hit at a .275 clip in June, driving in 29 runs. He blasted two homers and brought in seven runs in a June 7 game against Chicago and turned the same trick four days later against San Francisco.

Farrell won four games in June, appearing in 24 1-3 innings and allowing only two earned runs and 13 hits.

Boxing Judge Faces Charge Of Conspiracy

NEW YORK (AP)—Bert Grant, a New York boxing judge for many years, has been indicted and arrested on charges of conspiring with fight manager Hymie Wallman to commit bribery in five bouts involving Wallman's fighters.

Grant, 51, pleaded innocent on his arraignment.

The alleged conspiracy covered five bouts at Madison Square Garden and St. Nicholas Arena in New York from Sept. 20, 1954, to April 7, 1958.

District Atty. Frank Hogan accused Grant of receiving a total of $400 from Wallman, $300 for fights that he judged and $100 for a fight at which he did not officiate.

Wallman was named co-conspirator in the indictment by a New York grand jury that has been hearing an investigation of pro boxing conducted by Hogan's chief assistant, Alfred J. Scotti, and assistant D. A. John J. Bonomi. Hogan said Wallman was granted immunity for testifying. He said Grant refused to waive immunity a month ago and therefore was not permitted to testify.

Boxers managed by Wallman won all five of the fights, four by unanimous decisions. Alex Miteff, an Argentine heavyweight, was a two-time winner and middleweight Moses Ward of Detroit, featherweight Ike Chestnut of New York and lightweight Orlando Zulueta of Cuba each won once.

It was alleged in the indictment that Grant accepted bribes to favor Wallman's fighters. A conspiracy conviction, a misdemeanor, is punishable by a prison term of from one to three years. Conviction of a felony count is punishable by terms of from one to 10 years in each count.

Lawrence Gives 4 Hits

Redlegs Win 1-0 Duel With Braves

By The Ascsociated Press

You can file Brooks Lawrence in that thin folder titled "Bad Deals by Frank Lane."

The big right-hander, plucked from the minors by Cincinnati after the St. Louis Cardinals had given up on him, has been the ace of the Redleg pitching staff since, running up a 41-26 record in 2½ seasons.

Fifth Win in Row

Lawrence won his fifth in a row, all complete games, Wednesday night with a four-hitter that returned the Redlegs to fourth place in the National League with a 1-0 decision over first place Milwaukee.

The Braves' lead was trimmed to three games again over St. Louis and San Francisco as the third place Giants defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-2 in the only other NL game scheduled.

Lawrence, 33, the Bull of the Cardinal bullpen when he had a 15-6 record in 1954, was traded to the Reds by Lane, then general manager for the Cards, for pitcher Jackie Collum in January, 1956. He promptly won 19 for the Redlegs in their near-mi: pennant rush of '56. Last year he was 16-13.

Second Shutout

Now he's 6-3 with two shutouts, giving up just one hit after the third inning at Milwaukee in a dandy duel with young Joey Jay, who lost with a five-hitter.

The Braves beat the Reds 1-0 Tuesday night on Lew Burdette's eight-hitter.

Jay is now 1-3 with his third consecutive defeat.

The Giants moved within .001 of a percentage point of the Cardinals as Dick Drott lost his fifth in a row for a 3-6 record. Stu Miller won it for a 2-4 record.

Tebbetts Says Deals Helping Redlegs' Club

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Birdie Tebbetts has come full circle as manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

There was a time, not too long ago, when the Redlegs were long on good hitters and short on good pitchers. At the moment, the situation is just the opposite, but Birdie says those winter trades have nothing to do with it.

Brooks Lawrence, with one run to work with from the third inning on Wednesday night, made it stand up for a 1-0 victory over the National League-leading Milwaukee Braves. Johnny Temple carried the run over on his double—one of five hits off Braves rookie Joey Jay—an infield out and a sacrifice fly.

The Redlegs, now fourth behind St. Louis and San Francisco, five games behind the Braves, have scored only two earned runs in the last 38 innings and 12 in their last eight games.

Their once-vaunted power has been muffled—or traded away. They've hit only two homers in their last nine games and only 47 so far this season. Two years ago when they tied the Giants for the National League season record of 221 circuit blows—they had 100 at this stage of the race.

"I'll say we're in a slump, said Tebbetts Wednesday night, "And I don't need statistics to remind me. We come in here for three games and score just three runs, two of 'em earned, in 27 innings.

"You have to expect one or two guys on a ball club to go sour, he continued, "but four or five at the same time is a different matter. We got men on, but they stay there.

The worst offender has been left-fielder Frank Robinson, who was a sensation the last two seasons. Now, in his junior year in the NL, he is batting .250 with 8 homers and 22 runs batted in. He has collected only 4 hits in his last 35 trips. Don Hoak is 2 for 32 and George Crowe, 1 for 17.

Tebbetts denied that the Redlegs trades have hurt the club powerwise. Among the sluggers who have swapped their red stockings for hose of another color are Wally Post, Ted Kluszewski and Steve Bilko.

Althea Gibson Defends Title At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Althea Gibson defends her Wimbledon tennis title today against an 18-year-old British girl, a world class table tennis player but a stranger to the higher brackets at Wimbledon.

Miss Gibson, of New York, meets Ann Haydon in the women's semifinals. Miss Haydon has never advanced this far at Wimbledon before.

Suzy Kormoczy, the 38-year-old Hungarian housewife who won the French championships last month, plays Britain's Angela Mortimer, Australian and former French champion who is making a tennis comeback after a long illness.

Meantime, the men's singles competition is down to an all-Australian final for the third straight year. Ashley Cooper and southpaw Neale Fraser meet for the title Friday.

In Wednesday's semifinals, Fraser defeated the carefree Dane, Kurt Nielsen, 6-4, 6-4, 17-19, 6-4 and Cooper eliminated his compatriot, Mervyn Rose, 7-9, 6-2, 6-2, 6-3.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching — Brooks Lawrence, Redlegs, won his fifth in a row, all complete games, with a four-hitter, all singles, that beat the Braves 1-0.

Hitting — Hank Bauer, Yankees, had five hits in five trips, four singles and a double in 4-1 victory over the Orioles.

Breaks Trot Record

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Lusty Tom set a new track trotting record Wednesday at Hilliards Raceway, going the mile in 2:05 2-5 in the Class B feature.

The time broke a mark of 2:05 3-5 set in 1956 by Good Song. Jules Louise drove Lusty Tom.

Lucky Song and W.A.D. combined for the season's highest daily double—$293.

Yankees Boost Attendance At American League Parks

NEW YORK (AP) — It's time to get the turnstiles fully manned when the New York Yankees hit the road.

The league leaders are saving the American League, which has hauled in more than a million customers less than the National, from making even a poorer attendance showing.

Attendance Down

Some folks figure the Yanks' pennant runaway is the reason for the junior circuit's 200,000 attendance decline from last season. But who knows what the deficit would be if the magic name of the Yankees didn't pack 'em in at Detroit, Kansas City, Boston, Baltimore, Cleveland, Chicago and Washington?

An Associated Press survey today showed the Yanks have played before 828,593 fans on the road. That's 28 per cent of the 2,931,220 the AL has drawn outside Yankee Stadium.

Even more striking are the statistics of the Yankees compared with the seven other American League clubs.

In Detroit, for example, Casey Stengel's crew has appeared six times for a total of 193,544 paid. That's an average of 32,257 an appearance. The other six teams are averaging 15,454 at Detroit.

The Yanks have drawn 137,248 in five showing in Kansas City for an average of 27,450. The Athletics are averaging 10,508 against the rest.

Chisox, Indians Aided

The figures are even more revealing in Chicago and Cleveland. A total of 121,616 have seen New York play in the White Sox' Comiskey Park. That breaks down to an average of 24,323 for five appearances. Against the other clubs, the Sox average is a mere 9,438.

In Cleveland, where the capacity is more than 73,000, the Yanks have hauled in 101,214 in four showings for an average of 25,303. The Indians are drawing an average of only 7,212 against the six other teams.

Except at Baltimore, the Yanks also have been the visiting team in each of the one-day attendance highs for American League cities this season. At Boston it was 35,223 April 15; Chicago, 36,167 May 20; Cleveland, 40,156 May 25; Detroit, 53,168 June 20; Kansas City 31,602 June 27 and Washington 27,704 May 18.

Schiff Clips Fahey Bank Nine 7-5; Curfew Halts Other Game

In a brace of Little League baseball games played Wednesday night, Schiff took a 7-5 victory from Fahey and Wilhelm and MPS played to a 5-5 tie, with the curfew cutting the game off after seven innings.

Schiff, scoring seven runs on 10 hits, were trailing 4-1 going into the fifth frame. They got one run in the first, but Fahey posted a pair in both the first and fourth sessions to take the lead. Schiff stickmen came to life in the fifth, however, for four big runs and a 5-4 advantage.

Fahey made one last stab for the win, scoring twice in its half of the sixth. But, Schiff was equal to the test and also tallied a two-some for the win. Fahey got its five runs on an equal number of safeties.

Fry came on to relieve starting pitcher Warwick for the victory. Warwick registered 13 strikeouts but faded in the stretch. Ballinger and Ellwood hurled for Fahey. Ellwood getting tagged with the defeat.

Traugh and Bailey doubled in the first and fourth innings respectively for Fahey, while Evans rapped a triple in the fourth. Wolpert and Hopkins both had doubles for the winning Schiff's nine in the sixth.

MPS had what appeared to be a 5-0 victory until Wilhelm came to the party in the fourth. Four runs in that frame, plus another tally in the fifth deadlocked the fracas at 5-5 and that's where it was when curfew time rolled around.

MPS got off to a flying start. Four straight hits and a walk and it had a five-run lead. But impending trouble was in evidence at the very outset. Reish, MPS hurler, loaded the bases in the opening frame before he had anyone out. Then he proceeded to retire the side without a run scoring.

His luck ran out in the fourth, however, with Wilhelm getting four runs. Two hits and an error brought home the tying run in the fifth.

All told, MPS scored five runs on five hits, with Reish getting help from Phillips. Wilhelm banged out five runs on six hits. Strauss went the distance for Wilhelm. Penix banged a third inning double for Wilhelm. The game will be completed at a later date.

Jo-Jo White Hired As Indian Coach

CLEVELAND (AP)—Joyner (Jo-Jo) White, best remembered as a Detroit Tigers' outfielder, has been signed as a coach by the Cleveland Indians, the club announced today.

White, 49, has been a manager and scout in the Indians' farm system since 1953. He retired from baseball as a player in 1945. He played with the Detroit Tigers for seven seasons starting in 1932, spent two years with the old Philadelphia Athletics and ended his career with the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Sold to Indians

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals sold relief pitcher Morris Martin to the Cleveland Indians for $20,000 Wednesday.

Logart Loses, Asks Rematch

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"We want a rematch to erase this horrible decision."

Speaking was Eddie Mafuz, fiery little manager of Cub's Isaac Logart. Mafuz was indignant over Wednesday night's upset split decision in favor of hometowner Don Jordan.

The 10-round Hollywood Legion Stadium bout was nationally televised.

"This injustice may rob us of a chance to get a shot at Virgil Akins' welterweight crown," Mafuz said in a dressing room interview. "It gives them a chance to duck Logart."

The 25-year-old Cuban is the No. 1 challenger for the welterweight championship.

There were no knockdowns and Logart did what damage was done. The 23-year-old Jordan suffered a bloody nose in the first round and a cut eyelid in the third.

Referee Mushy Callahan and judge George Thomas scored it for Jordan, 95-94 and 97-95, respectively. Judge George Latka had it 97-93 for Logart.

The decision was received with mingled hoots and cheers. Logart's camp was dismayed and even Jordan seemed surprised. He later said he thought he had won the fight.

Telephone, Fairfield and 750 Take Wins in Industrial Play

General Telephone, Local 750 and Fairfield were winners Wednesday night in Industrial League No. 2 play at Garfield Park. The Telephone nine clipped Goodrich 6-2, Local 750 edged past Local 1949 by a 5-4 count and Fairfield took a high-scoring verdict from Erie 11-10.

Hits by Cramer and Taylor gave the Telephone team one run in the first inning. Two came home in the fifth on hits by Cramer and Drake and two walks. The winners scored three in the seventh on hits by Cramer, Drake and Walters and two fielder's choices. A walk and a double by Cramer gave Goodrich one in the second inning while a walk and a hit by Bowdre accounted for the final tally in the fifth.

Five errors and a double by Jack Garrison gave Local 750 three runs in the fourth. Hits by Reid, Paulus and Sloat added one in the fifth and a hit batsman, an outfield fly and two infield grounders brought home the final run in the sixth. Local 1949 posted its first run in the third on a walk and a triple by Hunt. The losers came on strong in the final inning, pushing over three runs before Jack Daum could put down the threat. Doubles by Jones and Ramsey, a hit batsman and three bases on balls accounted for the runs.

Erie scored one in the second, four in the third, three in the fourth and one each in the sixth and seventh in falling to Fairfield. The winners scored two in the first, one in the second, one in the fifth, five in the sixth and two in the seventh. Rosebrough led the Erie attack with a pair of home runs and a single. Gruber belted out a home run and a single and Carr chipped in with a pair of base hits. Seiter hit a homer for the winners while Koudelka and Armbruster each had two hits.

Only one game is scheduled for Garfield Park tonight with Whirlpool meeting Marion Power Shovel for the first round title in Industrial League No. 1 action. Game time is 7 p.m.

MPS Batters Set Pace in National League's Hit Race

The Marion Power Shovel team, cellar dwellers at the end of the first round play in the Marion Baseball for Boys Commission's National League, claimed two of the loop's top five hitters.

Stan Flesher topped the league's hitters with a blistering .571 mark. He banged out 16 hits in 28 trips to the plate. His total included five doubles and a pair of home runs. The MPS nine's Milligan was tied for fourth place with a .428 mark. He had collected six hits in 14 tries to deadlock Bill Anderson of the Fahey Bank entry, also at .428. Anderson had 12 hits in 28 times at bat.

Dan Roseberry of Schiff's team held the runner-up spot in the batting race with a .521 average. He banged out 12 hits in 25 times at the plate. He also was the top scorer during first round play, crossing the plate 16 times. Gary Worthington of Schiff's held third place with a .450 performance, collecting 12 hits in 25 attempts.

Roseberry was the first round slugging leader, crashing out three home runs. Flesher had a pair of round trippers. Flesher led the league in doubles with five while Anderson and Phillips each had four.

Schiff's Warwick was the leading hurler with a 3-0 mark. Wilhelm's Penix posted four victories but was charged with one setback. Roseberry compiled a 3-2 mound record.

Schiff's led the field at the end of first round play with a 7-2 record. Wilhelm took second with six wins and three setbacks while Fahey Bank was 3-6 in league standings. The cellar-dwellers won two while dropping seven.

Holiday Racing Card Planned at Richwood

It's exhaust fumes, flying dirt and a dented fender or two Friday night, as a full slate of stock car races gets under way on the Richwood Speedway.

A 30-lap feature will highlight the night's jalopy derby, with Jim Ewing expected to be back to try for his second big win.

Six other races are on tap, with time trials to begin at 7:30. The starter will flag off the first race promptly at 8:30.

Industrial Golf Race Reaches Halfway Point

First-round play in both the Monday and Friday night divisions of the Marion Industrial Golf League is over.

Mar-O-Del has captured top honors in the Monday section, with the Farmers Implement crew leading the Friday night pack.

In consequence, these two winners will play the two winners of the second round at season's end. The victors in that game will then tangle with each other for the Industrial loop championship, with a trophy going to the top team.

As of now in the Monday night division, Mar-O-Del is atop the pile with a 43-20, won-lost record. Palace Recreation is second, 37½-25½; Pollak C & O and Y-Men are tied for third, 36-27; Short Ford is fifth, 28-35; Quaker Oats sixth, 26½-36½; Bordens seventh, 24½-38½; and the Engineer Depot is in the cellar, 20½-42½.

The Farmers Implement is pacing the Friday loop with a 48½-14½ mark. The Legion is in second place with a 35-28 total: Jockey Steak House is third, 33-30; Tecumseh fourth, 32-21; Gulf Refining fifth, 31½-31½; Goodrich sixth, 29½-24½; Huber-Warco, seventh, 28-35; and the Y-Men are in last place by virtue of a 10½-52½ score.

All second-round matches are to be played on the back nine holes of the Mar-O-Del course.

Green Camp Falls 5-0 Against Waldo

Waldo blanked Green Camp 5-0 in a Marion County League baseball game Wedensday night at the winners' diamond. Dave Augenstein went all the way on the mound in hurling a classy two-hit shutout.

Waldo pushed over three runs in the third inning. Chuck Temple led off with a double, Jim Ward was safe on an error and Mickey Newell was hit by the pitcher. Temple was then thrown out at the plate but Danny Dunlap walked to reload the bases. Ward stole home with the first run and Augenstein was hit by the pitcher. Harry Klingel drove home two runs with a clean single.

One run in the third was accounted for when Temple reached first on an error and Ward and Dick Klingel followed with singles. Temple walked and Ward tripled to drive in the last run in the fifth.

Augenstein finished with 10 strikeouts and walked three. Bob Flach, the losing pitcher, struck out two and walked four.

Waldo's next game will be Friday at 2 p.m. at Caledonia.

Clark Metal, Alloy Win in Pony Race

Two Pony League baseball games were played Wednesday night, with Clark Metal shutting out VFW, 9-0, and Alloy taking a 7-2 victory from G&G Homes.

Clark sent Jaycox to the mound to register its win. He was backed up at the plate by 14 hits. Big guns in the Clark attack were Clark and McGraw, both of whom clouted a trio of hits. Clark also scored three of his team's nine runs.

Sims was on the hill for VFW. His mates got eight hits in all but failed to capitalize on any of them as Jaycox kept the situation under control in the tight spots.

Alloy racked up seven runs on seven hits to down G&G by a 7-2 margin. The latter got but two safe blows.

Merchant hurled for the winners, giving up hits to G&G's McGraw and Flesher. Flesher, the G&G moundsman, ladled out safeties to six Alloy stickmen, two of them to Larry Merchant.

Larry, Dick Merchant, Wilson, Cudd, Richards and Britz all crossed the plate for Alloy; Gilbert and Flesher turned the trick for G&G.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved slightly higher in fairly active trading early this afternoon, pushing into new high ground for 1958.

Chemicals and selected issues did well. Rails advanced on average. Tobaccos were soft as the industry awaited another health report on tobacco next week.

Gains of key stocks went from fractions to about a point. Secondary issues made wider gains. Losses among tobaccos and other issues went from fractions to 1 or 2 points.

Despite the three-day July 4 holiday, trading was at a faster rate than Wednesday, at least in early hours. There was nothing in the general business and economic background to spur stocks.

Alaska Juneau continued in demand and was up a good fraction. Reichhold Chemical also ahead about 2 points.

The tobacco group was nervous. American Tobacco fell about 2, U. S. Tobacco at sizable fraction and Lorillard more than a point.

Fractional gains were made by American Telephone, Southern Pacific and Chesapeake & Ohio. Gulf Oil rose about a point and Goodrich took a similar loss. Steels and motors showed slight movement. Chemicals were the best of the industrial group. Dow was up about a point.

U.S. government bonds rose moderately.

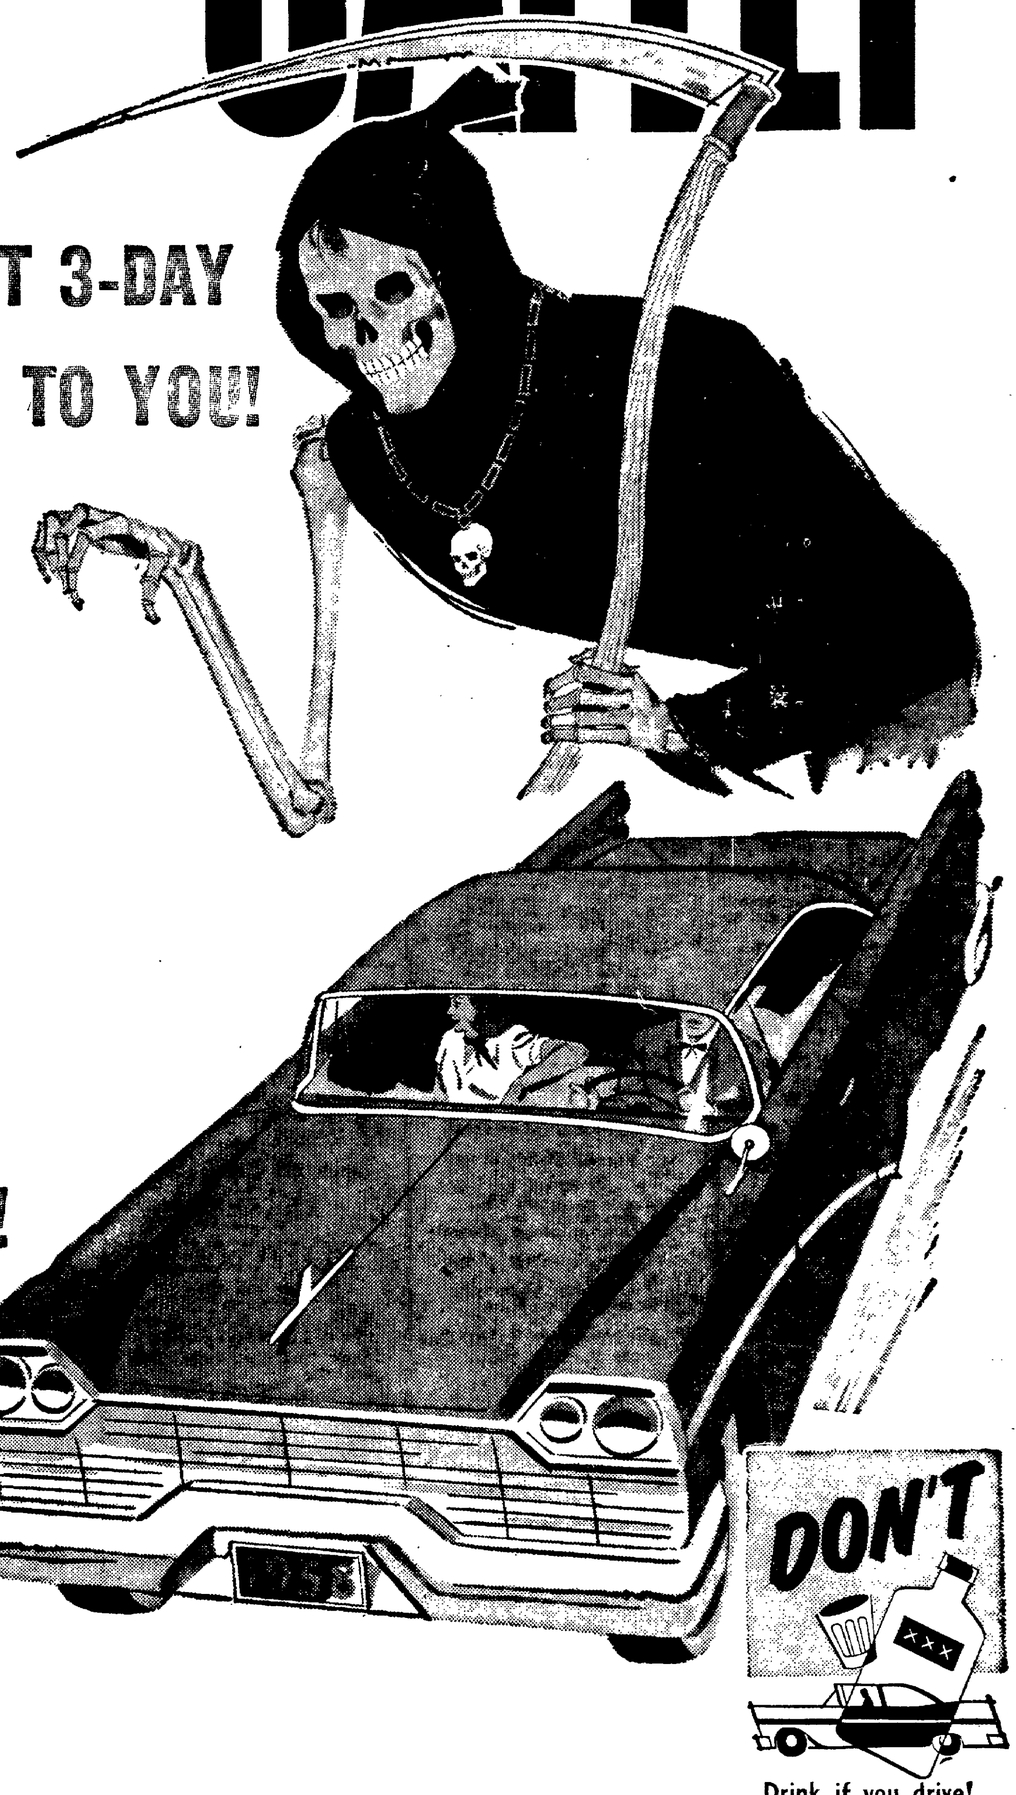
GO "FOURTH" SAFELY

585 MET DEATH IN ACCIDENTS DURING THE LAST 3-DAY HOLIDAY WEEKEND . . . DON'T LET THIS HAPPEN TO YOU!



Drive if you're tired!

Drive an unchecked car!

"Speed it up" on the road!

Enjoy the Fourth—but be alive on the Fifth! There will be hundreds of accidents during the coming three-day weekend! Holiday outings turned to tragedy, with far too many dead, far too many injured and crippled! Remember, if you're driving, IT'S BETTER TO BE SAFE THAN SORRY!

Take a few minutes more to get where you're going! Start early—drive slowly! Statistics prove the majority of fatal accidents occur during the first thirty hours of the holiday! So play it safe—take it easy! Be sure your car is safety-checked, then drive ten miles an hour slower than your usual rate of speed, to allow for heavier traffic, extra hazards, "amateur" holiday drivers!

BE SLOW! BE CAREFUL! BE COURTEOUS! BE ALIVE!

DON'T GAMBLE! OBEY ALL SAFETY RULES! IT'S 'MURDER' IF YOU DON'T!

1. Before starting . . . have your car checked! Blowouts, mechanical failures, can cause death!

2. If you're going to drive at leisure, use side roads.

3. Children and pets in the back seat, where they can't distract the driver.

4. Stop frequently for coffee and rest periods. Don't get overtired!

5. Don't drink and drive! Even "one for the road" can lead to accidents.

6. Don't speed! Don't "pass"! Don't swing out of traffic lanes!

7. Always yield the right of way.

Drink if you drive!

We, the Sponsors, Will Feel Well Repaid If This Reminder Prevents the Injury or Death of A Single Person!

Board Clashes With Hoffa

Monitors Crack Down On Teamsters' Leaders

By VICTOR RIESEL

Those cool, tough Teamster leaders have finally fun into someone cooler and tougher than they are—namely Washington, counsellor-at-law Martin O'Donoghue. He is chief of the monitors appointed by a federal court to clean up the world's largest union.

VICTOR RIESEL

And James R. Hoffa may be heading right into that federal court again. Not under any charges but to make charges in an effort to rid his union of the first national labor monitoring board in history. Hoffa will operate on the theory that if you can't like your opponents, enjoin 'em.

Hoffa and his high command plan open revolt against the clean-up board because O'Donoghue is cracking down too hard on the Teamsters' complex and sprawl-internal activity and conduct.

Mr. O'Donoghue, a labor lawyer himself, takes the whimsical approach that, having been appointed by federal Judge F. Dickenson Letts to clean up, he must, therefore, clean up. And Mr. O'Donoghue has a whim of iron, Hoffa has discovered.

-:-

ONE OF THE MOVES made by O'Donoghue was to warn the Teamster leaders that he believes that any one of them taking the Fifth Amendment to cover up union activities during testimony before the McClellan committee, or any federal probers, should be dumped from office. This would immediately affect some in the union's highest command.

After a recent series of conferences, Counsellor O'Donoghue took the entire monitoring operation right out of the Teamsters' truncated tower. He moved all the files.

He directed the Teamster officials to see to it that the next issue of the Teamsters' magazine notifies all members that future complaints are to be dispatched to the new monitoring center, in O'Donoghue's office, at 831 Tower Bldg, Washington, 5 D.C.

O'Donoghue did more than assign one of his field staff to check the men in the Teamos with criminal records — as listed in Sen. McClellan's final report. He ordered Price-Waterhouse, the giant accounting firm, to ask McClellan committee counsel Bob Kennedy for all detatils on locals which have been looted.

AFTER THESE figures are all prepared in special reports, O'Donoghue plans to ask Hoffa just how the union can get its money back—and why some of those who lifted the lid off the till are still getting union salaries or pensions.

And the quixotic Mr. O'Donoghue, to prove that he is simply not impressed by the biggest windmills, is trying to set the three-man monitoring board up as a trial board to hear those officers charged with persistent confusion of union funds with their own accounts. In the past, the Teamsters' high command has appointed its own trial boards.

The other day, he and the Teamster leaders discussed naming a panel to hear charges against Philadelphia's Ray Cohen, leader of the big Teamo local in that city and one of the national union's trustees.

O'Donoghue suggested that the monitors try the expensive labor leader.

One of Hoffa's men pointed out that the constitution says nothing about an outside board trying one of the inside officials O'Donoghue reported that neither does the constitution provide for the monitors—but the federal court did.

-:-

SO THE TEAMSTER chiefs decided that they would "pull a Gandhi"—and go in for non-compliance.

One of those who ignored the chief monitor is Hoffa's intimate friend Johnny O'Rourke, a Teamster national vice-president. O'Donoghue had asked O'Rourke to appear before the monitors to explain why his New York Local 282 had cancelled membership meetings in the summer months.

O'Rourke refused to show. O'Donoghue ignored being ignored and simply directed the New Yorker to run summer meetings. This angered the Teamster high command which gathered in Washington this week.

They will decide whether to refuse to work with the monitors or whether to go into court to petition for the monitors' removal.

But they may find O'Donoghue there first. He will seek an interpretation of his powers from the court.

If he wins, he's got the roughest job any many has had this side of the Augean stables.

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Judge Willis Ritter doesn't dig these Elvis Presley sideburns.
